

Sing Unto the Lord

by Basilea Schlink

The sermon emphasizes the importance of praising God and radiating His love and glory in everyday life.

Duration: 4:35

Scripture: Psalm 86:9, Isaiah 43:7, Matthew 5:16, John 13:35, Romans 12:1, 1 Corinthians 10:31, Revelation 4:11

Topics: "Radio Show"

Description

The video is a sermon on the topic of glorifying God and bringing honor to Him. The speaker emphasizes that God deserves our honor and praise because He is all-powerful, all-knowing, all-loving, holy, and eternal. The world today mocks and blasphemes God, so it is the duty of Christians to radiate His love and glory in order to reveal who He truly is. The ultimate commission for Christians is to bring people to recognize and worship God, giving Him their answer of love.

Transcript

God lives and works today, and as an almighty, omnipotent, and loving Father, He is worthy and deserving of our praise. Today's program by Basilio Schlinck is about praise, the highest calling of man. Sing with joy and worship Him.

Rejoice in the Lord, all ye lands. Rejoice in the Lord, all ye lands. Yes, sing, laud, and worship God.

To give Him the glory is the highest calling of man. We must bring honor to Him, for He rightfully deserves our honor. Only He is all-powerful, all-knowing, all-loving, holy and eternal, the Lord and Creator of life.

And yet, never before has God been so mocked and blasphemed as He is today, by children as well as by adults, from within the church as well as from without. Surely the hearts of those who love Him should burn to bring Him honor and praise in every possible way. In other words, we who are Christians should so radiate the love and glory of God that the world will recognize Him for who He really is, the Lord great in honor, full of love.

Could there be any commission more wonderful, more beautiful than to reveal to people who God is? When they behold Him, they will fall down, giving Him honor and worship, giving Him their answer of love. Now there are many ways in which we can glorify God, but of course He will receive the most glory when our entire being radiates His true nature, which is only love, and when we demonstrate in everyday life the merciful, patient, reconciling love of Jesus. For God has called us for this very purpose, that we might reveal the kingdom of love, that each one of us might be a little ray of His heavenly light.

Oh, if only our hearts would burn with this one desire, my life must glorify God. Oh, all the men and mystic girls, you are the only suffering. Be further in my life, adored.

Oh, let it give you glory, Lord, above, beyond, all other. Let me your glory radiate, with joyous singing celebrate the praise of God my Maker. You've been listening to a program written by Basilea Schlink of the Little Land of Canaan.
