Transcript

God lives and works today. However, perhaps you feel that this isn't true for you, because your life seems so meaningless. Today's program, Your Architect, by Basilia Schlenk, will give us a helpful tip about how one can find meaning and purpose in life.

Loving Father, Loving Father, Father of everlasting love, I sing and rejoice of your unending love, Your planning, leading, counselor. Loving Father, Loving Father, Father of everlasting love, Eternal love. Perhaps everything seems so meaningless to you.

Your life, all your activities, your relationships to others. I can tell you the reason. You have lost contact with the one who is holding the plan for your life in his hands.

That is why everything seems to you to be simply mass confusion, just like the diggings at a construction site. They do not give us the vaguest idea of what the new building will look like if we have not seen the plans of the architect. Your life is a house.

The architect is God, your creator. At the same time, he is your father, and he has delivered up his only begotten son to death for your sake so that he can accept you as a child if you believe on him. This father is saying to you, I am wonderful in counsel and excellent in wisdom.

He has worked out a good, solid plan for your life. Therefore, abandon yourself to him. Desire only what he has prescribed for you.

Desire no other way than the one he is leading you. Entrust yourself to him, to his love. Looking back, you will see how good and perfect his plans and leadings were.

I rest in you, safe hidden, O Father, mine most dear. In every care and sorrow I yet may find peace here. Whoever commits his will to God, whoever trusts him and his love and seeming senselessness has made the best decision, for then he is living according to the will of Him who alone is good and wise and who leads us along the best path according to the wisest plan of His love.

You did this life for me ordain, in it the highest need attain, a masterpiece of loving. This program by Basilea Schlink has come to you from the Little Land of Canaan.
