

(Clip) Last Days Lovers of Self

by Carter Conlon

A saved person's focus should be on others, not personal gain, and prioritizing the salvation of others is essential for living a life that pleases God.

Duration: 1:10

Scripture: Isaiah 58:6

Topics: "Selflessness", "End Times"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the importance of focusing on others rather than ourselves, especially in the context of the last days where self-centeredness and love of money are prevalent. It highlights the need to live a life that reflects God's love and truth, with a warning against teachings that prioritize personal gain over true biblical principles.

Transcript

Is part of this godliness without power lovers of themselves. That's why we have so much teaching in the church in America focusing on self It's part of the perilous times of the last days When you are saved that your name is now as mine is written in the Lamb's Book of Life when I know I'm going to The other side my focus has to be on others. I Have to be living a life.

This is God This is not about me getting to the other side with no ruffles in the water and no sun beating down on me It's about the other people are not going to make it if they don't know what I know They will be lovers of money Why do you think there's so much teaching on money? In the American Church today, it's all about money. Give a dollar you get a hundred back 10,000 back hogwash to all of that stuff.

It's part of the perilous times in the last days It's a farm and I'm telling you folks you better shut it off If you're listening to it, you get back into the Word of God get back into biblical Christianity
