

(Clip) The Power of Christ

by Carter Conlon

This sermon emphasizes that the power of Christ comes through a relationship with God and His Son, Jesus Christ, highlighting the importance of not setting conditions on God as He is not our servant but we are His servants. It encourages trust in God's divine purpose, referencing the truth that all things work together for good for those who love God and are called according to His purpose, not just the good things but all things, ultimately leading to freedom and the fulfillment of God's intended purpose in our lives.

Scripture: John 14:6, Romans 8:28, John 8:32, Philippians 1:6

Topics: "Relationship with God", "Trust in Divine Purpose"

Transcript

The power of Christ will only come to you, my friend, through a relationship with God, through His Son, Jesus Christ. You don't get the power of Christ any other way. And don't set terms and conditions on God because He's not our servant.

We are His servants. And whatever He sees fit to allow in any one of our lives for His divine purpose, Paul was able to pen the words that all things work together for good to those who love God and are called according to His purpose. Not just some things or a few things, not just the good things, all things.

That's what the Word of God says. That's the truth that can set you free. Wherever you are right now, God is working that all out for His intended purpose in your life.

He's producing in you a prayer life, maybe, that you would never have otherwise.
