

When A Nation Forgets God

by Carter Conlon

This sermon emphasizes the importance of understanding the power of prayer by delving into the heart of God and the significance of His sacrifice on the cross. It highlights the need to grasp the depth of God's love and the transformative nature of believing in prayer. The sermon also warns against losing touch with God's heart and becoming complacent in religious practices or blessings, drawing parallels to the Old Testament temple's downfall due to neglect and forgetfulness.

Scripture: Matthew 21:22, John 3:16, Mark 11:24, Deuteronomy 8:11, 1 Corinthians 10:12

Topics: "Power of Prayer", "God's Love and Sacrifice"

Eyes are open and my ears are listening for the prayer that will be made in this place. If we fully understood the power of prayer, you see, you don't understand the power of prayer until we understand the heart of God, until we know why he went to a cross, till we understand what it means that God so loved the world, and until the words that he spoke, whatever you ask in prayer, believing you shall receive, become a reality to our hearts. We don't understand what prayer is because quite often we've lost touch with the heart of God.

I don't know what happened to this Old Testament temple. I guess they got caught in their religious practice, their exercises, maybe the gold and the glitter, maybe they just got bored. You know, when people get blessed and nations get blessed, they have a tendency to forget God.

And I think we may have done that in our own nation as well as they did in their time.
