

Now We Have Received

by C.H. Spurgeon

The Holy Spirit is absolutely necessary for our salvation, as He reveals God's work to our souls and brings us the blessings of the covenant.

Scripture: Genesis 25:23, Judges 5:25, 1 Kings 8:8, Daniel 5:11, Romans 13:1, Philippians 2:3, Philippians 3:8, Philippians 4:7, 2 Timothy 3:1, 1 Peter 2:13

Topics: "Humility", "Unity"

Description

The preacher delves into the Greek word 'huperecho,' which means to excel, be superior, and hold others in higher regard. Paul emphasizes the importance of esteeming others as more important than ourselves, a concept contrary to human nature but achievable through the power of the Holy Spirit. This selfless attitude is exemplified by Jesus, Paul, Timothy, and Epaphroditus. The sermon highlights the need to prioritize the interests of others over our own, promoting unity and humility within the body of Christ.

Transcript

Dear reader, have you received the spirit which is of God, wrought by the Holy Ghost in your soul? The necessity of the work of the Holy Spirit in the heart may be clearly seen from this fact, that all which has been done by God the Father, and by God the Son, must be ineffectual to us, unless the Spirit shall reveal these things to our souls. What effect does the doctrine of election have upon any man until the Spirit of God enters into him? Election is a dead letter in my consciousness until the Spirit of God calls me out of darkness into marvellous light.

Then through my calling, I see my election, and knowing myself to be called of God, I know myself to have been chosen in the eternal purpose. A covenant was made with the Lord Jesus Christ, by His Father; but what avails that covenant to us until the Holy Spirit brings us its blessings, and opens our hearts to receive them? There hang the blessings on the nail--Christ Jesus; but being short of stature, we cannot reach them; the Spirit of God takes them down and hands them to us, and thus they become actually ours.

Covenant blessings in themselves are like the manna in the skies, far out of mortal reach, but the spirit of God opens the windows of heaven and scatters the living bread around the camp of the spiritual Israel. Christ's finished work is like wine stored in the wine-vat; through unbelief we can neither draw nor drink. The Holy Spirit dips our vessel into this precious wine, and then we drink; but without the Spirit we are as truly dead in sin as though the Father never had elected, and though the Son had never bought us with His blood. The Holy Spirit is absolutely necessary to our well-being. Let us walk lovingly towards Him and tremble at the thought of grieving Him.
