

Serve the Lord With Gladness

by C.H. Spurgeon

Serving God with gladness is a token of acceptance and a demonstration of our sincerity in our faith.

Scripture: Nehemiah 8:10, Psalm 37:4, Psalm 100:2, Isaiah 12:3, John 15:11, Romans 12:11, 2 Corinthians 9:7, Philippians 4:4, Colossians 3:23-24, 1 Peter 4:10-11

Topics: "Heart of Worship", "Joyful Service"

Description

C.H. Spurgeon emphasizes that serving the Lord should be a joyful experience, as true service comes from a heart filled with gladness rather than obligation. He argues that God desires cheerful servants who express their love through joyful obedience, contrasting this with the idea of serving out of sadness or reluctance, which is not genuine service. Spurgeon illustrates that just as soldiers who fight for their country do so with enthusiasm, Christians should approach their service to God with a joyful spirit, as this reflects their sincerity and acceptance. He encourages believers to demonstrate their joy in serving God to the world, showcasing that true religion is a source of delight rather than slavery. Ultimately, he calls for a heart of gladness in our service, as it strengthens and uplifts our spirits.

Transcript

Delight in divine service is a token of acceptance. Those who serve God with a sad countenance, because they do what is unpleasant to them, are not serving Him at all; they bring the form of homage, but the life is absent. Our God requires no slaves to grace His throne; He is the Lord of the empire of love, and would have His servants dressed in the livery of joy. The angels of God serve Him with songs, not with groans; a murmur or a sigh would be a mutiny in their ranks. That obedience which is not voluntary is disobedience, for the Lord looketh at the heart, and if He seeth that we serve Him from force, and not because we love Him, He will reject our offering. Service coupled with cheerfulness is heart-service, and therefore true. Take away joyful willingness from the Christian, and you have removed the test of his sincerity. If a man be driven to battle, he is no patriot; but he who marches into the fray with flashing eye and beaming face, singing, "It is sweet for one's country to die," proves himself to be sincere in his patriotism. Cheerfulness is the support of our strength; in the joy of the Lord are we strong. It acts as the remover of difficulties. It is to our service what oil is to the wheels of a railway carriage. Without oil the axle soon grows hot, and accidents occur; and if there be not a holy cheerfulness to oil our wheels, our spirits will be clogged with weariness. The man who is cheerful in his service of God, proves that obedience is his element; he can sing,

"Make me to walk in Thy commands, 'Tis a delightful road."

Reader, let us put this question--do you serve the Lord with gladness? Let us show to the people of the world, who think our religion to be slavery, that it is to us a delight and a joy! Let our gladness proclaim that we serve a good Master.

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/ch-spurgeon/serve-the-lord-with-gladness/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net