Description

Clement of Rome emphasizes the importance of faith and righteousness in receiving God's blessings by reflecting on the lives of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Abraham was blessed for his righteousness and truthfulness through faith. Isaac demonstrated unwavering trust by willingly offering himself as a sacrifice. Jacob humbly left his land and served, eventually receiving the leadership of the twelve tribes of Israel.

Transcript

Let us cleave then to His blessing, and consider what are the means of possessing it. Let us think over the things which have taken place from the beginning. For what reason was our father Abraham blessed? was it not because he wrought righteousness and truth through faith?

Isaac, with perfect confidence, as if knowing what was to happen, cheerfully yielded himself as a sacrifice. Jacob, through reason of his brother, went forth with humility from his own land, and came to Laban and served him; and there was given to him the sceptre of the twelve tribes of Israel.
