Description

This sermon reflects on the journey through life's challenges and the hope of a brighter future in God's presence. It acknowledges the struggles faced in this world but emphasizes the promise of freedom, wholeness, peace, and eternal joy that believers can look forward to. The message encourages trust in God's guidance, assurance of His victory in our battles, and the ultimate destination of a place where sorrow and disappointment will be no more.

Transcript

Beams of heaven as I go
Through this wilderness below
Guide my feet in peaceful ways
Turn my midnights into days
When in the darkness I would go
Faith always sees a star of hope
And soon from all life's grief and danger
I shall be free someday
I shall be free someday
Often times my sky is clear
And joy abounds without a tear
Though a day so bright begun
Clouds may hide tomorrow's sun
There'll be a day that's always bright
A day that never yields to night
And in its light the streets of glory
I shall be whole someday
I shall be whole someday
Harder yet may be the fight
Right may often give wickedness
A while nation's cause may seem to gain
There is a God that rules above
With hand of power and heart if I'm right
He'll fight my battle
I shall have peace someday
I shall have peace someday
Now may it crush me down
And disappointments all around
Troubles speak in mournful sigh
Sorrow through a tear-stained eye
There is a world where pleasure reigns
No mourning soul shall roam its plains
And to that land of peace and glory
I shall want to go someday
I shall want to go someday
Someday
