

The 'All Things' That Work for Our Good

by Conrad Mbewe

The sermon emphasizes that God works all things together for the good of those who love Him, even through suffering and trials.

Duration: 44:18

Scripture: Romans 8:26

Topics: "Purpose Of God", "God's Sovereignty", "Trust in God's Plan"

Description

Conrad Mbewe emphasizes the profound truth found in Romans 8:28, that God works all things for the good of those who love Him and are called according to His purpose. He explains that even in suffering and trials, God's hand is at work, shaping our lives and conforming us to the image of Christ. Mbewe encourages believers to trust in God's sovereignty, reminding them that their struggles are not in vain but serve a greater purpose in God's divine plan. He illustrates this with biblical examples, such as Joseph's hardships leading to the salvation of many, and ultimately points to the cross as the ultimate demonstration of God's redemptive work. The sermon calls for a deeper understanding of God's providence and the assurance that every aspect of life is under His control.

Romans chapter 8, and we commence reading from verse 26. Romans 8, beginning with verse 26. In the same way, the Spirit helps us in... We do not know what we ought to pray for, but the Spirit Himself intercedes for us.

And he who searches our hearts knows the mind of the Spirit, because the Spirit intercedes for the saints in accordance with God's will. Verse 28, which we will be looking at this evening. And we know that in all things God works for the good who has been called according to His will.

For those God foreknew, He also predestined to be conformed to the likeness of man. And those He predestined, He also called, He also justified. Those He justified, He also... We'll end our reading there for now.
