

God The Father Is Waiting For Prodigals To Come Home

by Daniel Kenaston

This sermon emphasizes the relentless pursuit of the father's heart, symbolized by the parables of the lost sheep, the lost coin, and the prodigal son. It highlights the image of the father eagerly searching, waiting, and longing for the return of what was lost, reflecting God's unconditional love and grace towards His children.

Scripture: Luke 15:4, Luke 15:8, Luke 15:11, Psalm 119:176, Isaiah 53:6

Topics: "God's Unconditional Love", "The Joy of Redemption"

Transcript

Turning the house inside out, lighting a candle, needing more light. I have got to find that silver. That represents the heart of our father.

And the dad standing out there on the little hill, looking down the path for the 100th time? For the 500th time? For the 1000th time? It really doesn't matter, but I don't think this was day three. Do you? Picture it. Each one of those is meant to be a representation to us of the heart of our father, seeking.

I've got to find the sheep. I've got to find the coin. I've got to be here waiting so that when my son comes back, he knows that I was looking for him.

I don't know where he went. I can't go look for him, but I'm going to be here looking for him to come back.
