

Acting Like There IS No Throne of Grace

by David Wilkerson

This sermon emphasizes that when approaching God, we encounter a throne of mercy, not wrath or revenge. God offers grace to help in times of need, deserving our praise. Despite this, some believers avoid the throne, lacking a settled experience and a high priest to intercede for them.

Scripture: Hebrews 4:16, Hebrews 7:25, Psalm 86:5, James 4:8

Topics: "Throne of Mercy", "Intercession of Christ"

Description

This sermon emphasizes that when approaching God, we encounter a throne of mercy, not wrath or revenge. God offers grace to help in times of need, deserving our praise. Despite this, some believers avoid the throne, lacking a settled experience and a high priest to intercede for them.

Transcript

You come not to a revengeful, wrathful God. You come to a tender-hearted, it's called a throne of mercy. Mercy.

He said come and find what? Revenge? No, grace to help in your time of need. Oh, isn't that worth a praise God or something from you? But why are they, they avoid the throne even though it's their only place of support. I call them rambling saints.

They ramble because they don't have that settled experience. They have no high priest.
