

But Our Eyes Are on You

by David Wilkerson

---

The sermon emphasizes the importance of trusting in God's guidance and timing, even when we're unsure of what to do.

Scripture: 2 Chronicles 20:11-12, Psalm 37:5, Psalm 121:1-2, Proverbs 3:5-6, Isaiah 40:31, Jeremiah 29:11, Micah 7:7, John 14:6, Philippians 4:6-7, James 1:5

Topics: "Divine Guidance", "Trusting God"

---

Description

David Wilkerson emphasizes the importance of relying on God during times of uncertainty, as exemplified by King Jehoshaphat's response to impending danger from enemy armies. Instead of devising a military strategy, Jehoshaphat humbly acknowledged their helplessness and declared their dependence on God, stating, 'We have no power against this great multitude... but our eyes are upon You.' Wilkerson reminds us that while we may feel the urge to take control, true faith involves waiting for God's guidance and trusting in His plan. He encourages believers to seek God's presence and keep their focus on Him, as He is eager to provide direction in our lives.

---

Transcript

If our leaders declared they had absolutely no idea how to govern and provide direction, our nation would be confused and fearful. But that very thing happened in the time of King Jehoshaphat when three enemy armies were closing in on Judah. This mighty king called the nation together and instead of presenting a war plan and a decisive declaration of action, he stood before the people and poured out his heart out to God: "Here they come, rewarding us by coming to throw us out of Your possession which You have given us to inherit. O our God, will You not judge them? For we have no power against this great multitude that is coming against us; nor do we know what to do, but our eyes are upon You" (2 Chronicles 20:11-12).

What kind of plan was this? No program, no committee action, no brilliant war plans. Just a simple declaration: "We are in over our heads and don't know what to do -- but we will keep our eyes on the Lord." Believe it or not, even the greatest saints who ever lived did not fully understand the battle between the flesh and the Spirit. Look at all the different denominations we have -- and disputes over doctrine. Men today are still in the dark about so many things.

The urge to "make things happen" on our own comes to all of us at times and we may start to get ahead of his plan. Also, the enemy comes against us, causing us to reach that point of panic when the heart cries out, "What do I do now?" God has an answer for us: "I will look to the Lord; I will wait for the God of my salvation; my God will hear me" (Micah 7:7).

It is important to understand, however, that "keeping our eyes fixed on the Lord" does not mean we fold our hands and sit around letting God do it all. It means waiting until he shows the way. Jesus said, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" (John 14:6).

God is eager to provide guidance to you, his dear child, so spend time in his presence and keep your eyes upon him.

---

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/david-wilkerson/but-our-eyes-are-on-you/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

---

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net