

(clip) Are You a Seeker After God

by David Wilkerson

This sermon emphasizes the importance of seeking the face of God for righteousness to reign in one's life. It highlights that true seekers of God spend time with Him in prayer willingly, understanding that the power, glory, and victory come from seeking His face, not just routine prayers. The message warns against harboring sin in the heart, as it hinders communication with God.

Scripture: Psalm 27:8, Psalm 105:4, James 4:8, 1 Chronicles 16:11, Proverbs 28:13

Topics: "Seeking God's Presence", "The Power of Prayer"

Transcript

I don't know any righteous person that I've walked with or talked with or know personally who's gone any other way. All righteous people who really know what it is to have righteousness reigning in their life are seekers of the face of God. They seek God.

They spend time with Him. They pray. They don't have to be pushed.

They don't have to be cajoled to it. They have a heart for it because they have learned that the power and the glory and the victory is in learning how to seek the face of God. It's more than just praying.

You can pray for eight or ten hours a day and still not be necessarily seeking the face of the Lord. Because if you have sin in your life and you go to Him and not want to deal with that sin, the Bible said, if I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me. If I regard iniquity in my heart, then He said, He will not hear me.
