

God-Touched Servants

by David Wilkerson

---

God is looking for servants who are consumed with knowing him and will grieve over the moral condition in our society, and will speak his message to lost humanity.

Scripture: Daniel 10:7, Daniel 10:10, Revelation 1:13

Topics: "Urgency in Seeking God", "Divine Touch"

---

Description

David Wilkerson emphasizes the profound impact of God's touch on His servants, as illustrated by Daniel's experience of being seized by God's hand, which ignited a deep urgency to seek Him. This intimate relationship with the Lord allows certain individuals to receive divine revelations and become fervent prayer warriors, while others remain indifferent. Wilkerson questions why only some are chosen to experience this divine urgency, highlighting Daniel's unique passion for knowing God's heart amidst a faithful yet complacent society. The sermon calls for believers to cultivate a similar hunger for God and to be sensitive to the moral decay around them, preparing for Christ's return.

---

Transcript

Daniel testified, "Suddenly, a hand touched me, which made me tremble on my knees and on the palms of my hands" (Daniel 10:10). The word for "touched" here means to violently seize upon. Daniel was saying, "When God placed his hand on me, it put me on my face; his touch filled me with an urgency to seek him with all that is in me."

God-touched servants have an intimate relationship with Lord. They receive revelations from heaven and enjoy a walk with Christ that few others do. Whenever God touches someone's life, that person often falls to his knees and he becomes a person of prayer, driven to seek the Lord. I've often wondered why God touches only certain people with this urgency. Why do some servants become hungry seekers after him while other faithful people go on their way?

Daniel, a devoted servant, was touched by God in a supernatural way. There were many other good, pious people serving the Lord in Daniel's day. These included Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego and tens of thousands of other Israelites who maintained their faith while enslaved in Babylon.

So, why did God lay his hand on Daniel and touch him as he did? Why was this one man able to see and hear things no one else could? "I, Daniel, alone saw the vision, for the men who were with me did not see the vision" (Daniel 10:7). The vision Daniel saw was Jesus himself, clear and vivid. In fact, it was the same vision given to John on the Isle of Patmos (see Revelation 1:13-15).

The Lord revealed himself to Daniel in the way he did because this young man was consumed with a passion to know God's heart. Also, God decided the time had come to deliver a message to lost humanity and he needed a voice to speak his message.

The Lord is looking for those today who are consumed with knowing him and will grieve over the moral condition in our society -- while also eagerly looking for Christ's coming.

---

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/david-wilkerson/god-touched-servants/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

---

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net