Description

D.L. Moody discusses how the people of Israel limited the power of God by vexing and grieving the Holy Spirit through their rebellion and disobedience. He emphasizes the importance of recognizing and addressing the special sin against the Holy Spirit, which hinders God's work in our lives. Moody calls for self-examination and repentance to avoid such limitations and to fully embrace the power of the Holy Spirit.

Transcript

Israel, we are told, limited the Holy One of Israel. They vexed and grieved the Holy Spirit, and rebelled against His authority, but there is a special sin against Him, which we may profitably consider. The first description of it is in Matthew 12:22.
