

The Warning Of Comprimiting In The Flesh

by Don Currin

This sermon emphasizes the danger of compromising one's faith and character, warning against the subtle path of compromise that can lead to denying the Lord. It highlights the importance of staying true to one's convictions and not underestimating the potential to drift away from God, even for those who feel secure in their faith.

Scripture: Hebrews 2:1, 1 Corinthians 10:12, Galatians 6:1, James 4:17

Topics: "Faithfulness", "The Danger of Compromise"

Transcript

You may not be a platform speaker, but don't think for a minute that what I'm talking to you tonight about and warning you of can't happen to you. Prone to wonder? Yes, Lord, I feel it. But prone to leave the God I love? I have no concept of that.

Christ has purchased me. I've gotten a good drink of his love. The thought of abandoning him doesn't exist in my mind, but I still know my flesh.

And if I start making compromises and moving down the road to compromise, I'm no better than anybody else. I could deny my Lord if I compromise my conscience and character.
