

What Is The Most Important Message Needed for the Church Today■

by Edgar Reich

This sermon emphasizes the shift from self-sufficiency and self-righteousness to a reliance on higher help from the Lord Jesus Christ in everyday life. It highlights the spiritual battle Christians face, wrestling not just with physical challenges but with spiritual forces of darkness that influence thoughts and actions. The importance of seeking God's help in all aspects of life, not just in times of trouble, is underscored, with a call to experience the miracles that come from depending on God.

Scripture: Ephesians 6:12, Jeremiah 17:5, James 4:2, John 15:5, Psalm 121:2, Matthew 7:7, Proverbs 3:5, 1 Peter 5:7, Philippians 4:6

Topics: "Dependence on God", "Spiritual Warfare"

Thank you for that question and it's a very very good message and there might be many many different answers but from my perspective and I have come from the background of big business and I used to be in charge, it used to be my will, it used to be my way, it used to be my direction, it used to be my plans, it was all about me and I've learned in the meantime that there's a great great world out there and we can only see a part of it. We see perhaps with our eyes what we can perceive with our eyes but there's a spirit world that Ephesians 6 talks about. We wrestle not just with flesh and blood but with principalities and powers of the dark and so in our thought life even as Peter was affected, Christians are often affected by thoughts from the evil one, from the devil, from demons and they will pursue those thoughts thinking that they're good, that the thoughts are from themselves or even from God and they're deceived and so they will pursue a way of self-righteousness, of pride, of looking for the best for themselves and I have learned perhaps in the meantime that my self-sufficiency is a horror to God and he said in Jeremiah that the man that relies on his own strength, relies on his own arm, is cursed, cursed and I think the most important from my perspective that I see missing in the church is relying upon higher help from the Lord Jesus Christ in everyday life, in every question, in every situation that needs to be dealt with and if he's asked for help in the matter, he will answer and he will do and he also says in the word, you have not because you ask not and Jesus and the Father, they don't always automatically provide for everything that we need.

He wants us to have a dependence on him. He wants to love us in turn. He wants us to love him and to realize and so time and again I can see in my own life when I ask for his help, a miracle happens and for anyone who lives a Christian life without asking God for help in daily life, I don't just mean when you're in trouble, I mean in your daily walk with him, then you will see miracles upon miracles upon miracles.

So do that and see that God is alive and well in this world. Jesus his son is alive and he will do. Thank you.
