He highlights that true happiness and fortune come from having God's ways in one's heart, guided by the Holy Spirit. Stegen warns against the transient nature of human trust and encourages believers to maintain their first love and commitment to God's teachings. He calls for introspection on whether God's highways are truly in our hearts, urging a genuine relationship with Him.

Ps 84:5 "Blessed (happy, fortunate, to be envied) is the man whose strength is in You, in whose heart are the highways to Zion." (Amplified Bible)

There is so much contained in the word "blessed". Such a person is to be envied, he is very happy.

Blessed is the one that gets his strength from the Lord. Where do you get your strength from? Some trust in occult practices, or charms. But such people are troubled.

Unless you get your strength from the Lord you will be weak and troubled.

Others get their strength from politics and put their trust in certain leaders. But they will soon be disappointed. The one who trusts in the Lord will never be disappointed.

These days people divorce and remarry contrary to the clear teaching of the Bible. But may it not be like that with you; may the first love remain.

"Even those whose heart is set on the Lord's ways." For a Christian God's ways are in his heart. God has placed the Dove of Heaven, the Holy Spirit, in a Christian's heart, to guide him on his way.

A genuine Christian has God's law in his heart. It isn't necessary to run after them all the time and tell them, "not like this but like that", for God leads them by the Holy Spirit.

Here it speaks of those whose hearts are set on God's ways, even His highways. Are God's highways in your heart?
