

Ahab Did More to Provoke the Lord

by F.B. Meyer

Ahab's sin, particularly his idolatry and influence by Jezebel, provoked God more than all the kings, and the call to purity is to wear the white flower of a blameless life.

Scripture: 1 Kings 16:33, Romans 1:28

Topics: "Purity of Heart", "Idolatry"

Description

F.B. Meyer emphasizes the profound wickedness of King Ahab, who, influenced by his wife Jezebel, led Israel into the depths of idolatry and immorality, provoking the Lord more than any other king. Ahab's choice to worship Baal and Ashtoreth, along with the associated licentious practices, corrupted the spiritual life of the nation. Meyer warns of the close connection between impurity and spiritual decline, urging young people to maintain purity and blamelessness in their lives. He encourages believers to allow Christ to cleanse their hearts and govern their lives, promising that through purity and obedience, they will see God. The sermon serves as a call to resist the temptations of a corrupt world and to uphold a life dedicated to God.

Ahab did more to provoke the Lord

to anger than all the kings. 1Kings xvi. 33.

HIS sin was very aggravated, largely through the influence of Jezebel, his young and beautiful wife, who introduced the abominations of Phoenician idol-worship. This is why he is said to have exceeded his predecessors in wickedness. They broke the second commandment, and worshipped Jehovah under the form of a calf. Ahab and Jezebel broke the first, and chose other gods; Baal, the sun, and Ashtoreth, the moon. The inveterate love for this idolatry was connected with licentious rites with which these deities were served. What wonder that the land became corrupt when the fountains of its religious life were polluted at the source?

The connection between the indulgence of impurity and the declension of the spiritual life, is very close. As the apostle Paul tells us in Romans i., the men that refuse to retain God in their knowledge are given up to the working of passion; and as they yield to passion they lose the sweet, clear impression of the truth and nearness of the Christ. The first, second, and third thing to be said to young people on venturing out into the world, corrupt through many deceitful lusts, is, Be pure. Wear the white flower of a blameless life. If you cannot be faultless, be blameless. If you cannot realize all the good you know, at least refrain from all the evil. Keep your robes unspotted from the world. Then through purity of heart and obedience in life, you shall see God. As the living Christ enters the heart, He will drive before Him the brute forms of evil, overthrow the tables of the moneychangers, and will sit to teach of God. Give yourself unreservedly into his keeping, that He may govern and control every avenue of your life.
