

Their Dangerous Errors

by Ignatius of Antioch

Ignatius warns against the dangers of denying Christ and emphasizes the importance of confessing Him as God incarnate.

Scripture: Matthew 10:32, Luke 12:8, Romans 10:9, 2 Timothy 2:12, 1 John 4:2

Topics: "Christology", "Repentance"

Description

Ignatius of Antioch emphasizes the importance of confessing and acknowledging Jesus Christ as God incarnate, highlighting the severe consequences of denying Him. He expresses disappointment in those who advocate falsehood and blaspheme the Lord, stating that such individuals are enveloped in spiritual death. Ignatius refrains from naming these unbelievers, hoping for their repentance before any mention is made of them.

Transcript

Some have ignorantly denied Him, and advocate falsehood rather than the truth. These persons neither have the prophecies persuaded, nor the law of Moses, nor the Gospel even to this day, nor the sufferings we have individually endured. For they think also the same thing regarding us. For what does it profit, if any one commends me, but blasphemes my Lord, not owning Him to be God incarnate?

He that does not confess this, has in fact altogether denied Him, being enveloped in death. I have not, however, thought good to write the names of such persons, inasmuch as they are unbelievers; and far be it from me to make any mention of them, until they repent.
