Description

In this sermon, the speaker reflects on the challenges faced by believers during times of war and upheaval. He shares personal experiences of living through World War II and witnessing the mobilization of nations for war. The speaker emphasizes the need for believers to be prepared for the coming of the Lord and to live in expectation of His return. He encourages believers to study the events happening around the world but also acknowledges that these events are constantly changing, highlighting the importance of being rooted in the Word of God.

The Advent, Testimony and Preparation Movement and this was a movement founded by F.E. Meyer and Dinsdale Young, the mighty Methodist preacher to get the church ready for the rapture and our meetings in London would average about 3,000 each meeting morning, afternoon and evening, every month and then every month we had services for the Advent, Testimony Movement right throughout the whole of Great Britain and then it moved onward to the British possessions in India and then South Africa, Australia, New Zealand but I am sad to say because of modernism and compromising with modernism that movement is dead, that movement is dead because the modernists do not want to hear about the coming of the Lord Jesus Christ and the believers are compromising with the modernist, many evangelicals and that movement dies and I would to God if we had four or five prophetic movements in my country and every one of them have died, those men our holy men of God, St.

Taylor and many others many others believe that the church will be a rapture home to glory before the great tribulation but we don't need to argue about the coming of the Lord or whether we will be a rapture before the tribulation comes I believe like our beloved brother that coming such time is for dynamic Christianity in our churches men and women with a dynamic spirit our believers in our churches can't have a deep intimate knowledge of the Lord Jesus Christ unless their spirit and when they stand, if they only have an emotional experience they won't stand, I don't know who to trust and I ask them, and many of our

Oh no. The devil will be at your doorstep more than ever. But you'll have power over temptation.

As dear old Matthew Henry used to say, we can't keep the birds flying over our heads, but we can keep them building an atlas off of our heads. But the Holy Ghost will meet your need, no matter what your need is. If you need of isolation, need of ignorance, whatever it may be.

I can think, for example, of a boy, and he was blind boy. I was a boy, I think, 17 years old, and he would be 16 or 17, and he was my Bible teacher. And my dear friend, you know, a white walking cane to keep from being knocked down and killed by the car.

And, you know, he worked, he studied his Bible. There's a heavy brew of Bibles in these days. And to get the Bible together was about maybe 20 big bulky books.

And yet that young boy, 17, was so proud of the Holy Ghost that he knew his Bible in a more deep, intimate way than all the preachers all around the countryside. Now, he would never be in a Bible school. Who taught him the Holy Ghost? And so there's no excuses and no alibis for the Christian when the Holy Ghost is here.

And my dear friend, no matter what your need may be, it may be a bad temper. I was afraid to get saved because one reason why, I didn't want to be saved, first of all. And then when I come under conviction of sin, I was scared to get saved because I had a vicious bad temper.

I must have inherited it from my Irish father, but my Irish father had a nice bad temper. You know, it was just mouth was droopy, corrupted, and then he had the strap. I mean, he would say, I ran out the door.

I knew if I could just circle the block and come back, he'd forget. And then he would say, Jimmy, what's the strap for? I said, for me. And he'd burst out laughing.

He said, OK, son, let's go. Now, go off if you want. And you see, he never, and if it hits you once, that's all.

It was just finished. He didn't keep on all day hitting you. He's your very Christian.

The next moment, he hits you. And I said to my mother once, I said, mother, well, you know, one father came and he, and another one came and smashed me right there. I said, I've got to get victory over this bad temper.

Mother said, that's easy, son. Son, the very same Holy Spirit who indwelt the Lord Jesus, you've got the spirit of his son. Isn't that wonderful? Here tonight, at 15 years of age, you can ask for them all.

My bad temper can meet that need. Maybe there's power, kind of preaching your own strength. He can give you that supernatural power.
