

Go Forward, Oh Zion (Male Duet)

by John Alexander Dowie

The sermon calls believers to go forward in faith and courage, trusting in God's plan and timing, until the king comes to establish His kingdom.

Duration: 1:54

Scripture: Psalm 126:1, Isaiah 52:1

Topics: "Faith", "Hope", "Unity"

Description

John Alexander Dowie encourages the congregation to move forward with courage and faith, emphasizing the urgency of time and the promise of triumph as they await the return of their King. He paints a vivid picture of the ransomed people of God coming together from all nations, filled with joy and gladness, as they anticipate the fulfillment of God's promises. The call to 'Go forward, O Zion!' serves as a rallying cry for believers to remain steadfast and united in their mission until the King returns.

Transcript

Oh, the time is swiftly passing, and the days are going by. And on all expected mornings, sun will shine to all the sky. And from high and lofty mountains, we now hear the watchmen cry.

And with courage we'll go forward, till our king shall come. Go forward, O Zion! Great shall be thy triumph, till the king shall come. Go forward, O Zion! Great shall be thy triumph, till the king shall come.

When the ransomed of Jehovah, from east and from the west, Shall return with joy and gladness to receive the promised rest, Then shall every tribe and nation out of every land be blest, And rejoicing they shall gather, till our king shall come. Go forward, O Zion! Great shall be thy triumph, till the king shall come. Go forward, O Zion! Great shall be thy triumph, till the king shall come.
