

The History of Free Masonry - Part 2

by John Daniel

John Daniel exposes the influence of Freemasonry on world events, including the creation of the League of Nations and the United Nations, and its connection to the occult and Satanism.

Duration: 58:57

Scripture: Isaiah 59:19, Revelation 18:23

Topics: "Free Masonry"

Description

In this sermon, the preacher discusses the negative impact of video games on the minds of young people. He argues that these games teach them how to kill easily and desensitize them to the value of human life. The preacher also highlights the authoritarian society that may lead to soldiers shooting American citizens. He connects this issue to the lack of moral absolutes and the acceptance of abortion and euthanasia in society. The preacher suggests that the government is involved in fostering this destructive culture and recommends reading various books that expose these hidden agendas.

Transcript

Well, Dr. Stan, back here at Radio Liberty, and of course, our guest this evening, John Daniel, his book, Scarlet and the Beast, actually, it's a three-volume book, and we do carry it here at Radio Liberty, if you're interested in it. Our telephone number, 4648295, or 1-888-24-LIBERTY. That's 4648295, or 1-888-24-LIBERTY.

And this is probably the most extensive expose of the Masonic influence, and you'll find, for instance, the man who created the CIA was a highly-placed Mason, Alan Dulles. Isn't that right, John? Right. And, of course, so many of the people who had actually gone to Europe, along with Colonel House back in 1917, pardon me, 1918, 1919, to sign the Versailles Treaty, and then, of course, at that time, they met with the representatives of the English roundtable group, so-called Milner's men, and decided that they had to join the two Anglo-English-speaking empires together, the American, the British, and, of course, in England, they created the Royal Institutes for International Affairs, and in the United States, they created an organization which came to be known as the Council on Foreign Relations, which, according to Professor Quigley, on pages 951 and 952 of Tragedy and Hope, was simply a front organization for the small English roundtable group, and, of course, for J.P. Morgan Bank.

And, of course, you need to have a copy of Tragedy and Hope at your side of your radio so that you can check out to see if I'm telling you what's true or what's not, but Tragedy and Hope is must-reading, and, of course, this is a very, very important book we're talking about tonight, and you may very well want to get a copy of it and keep it at your bedside as well, because then you can begin to see this interplay between the Council on Foreign Relations, the roundtable, and the Masons. Now, what is the relationship between the Council on Foreign Relations and the Masons? You mentioned earlier that Cecil Rhodes had been a Mason, that Milner then, who carried on the Rhodes Trust and the Rhodes Secret Society, himself was a Mason, and then is there today within the Council on Foreign Relations a strong Masonic influence? It doesn't have to be. They have taken over our universities, and all you have to do is be left of center and you can become a member.

If you are anywhere right and you become a member, before long you will do their bidding or your sins will be exposed. But I want to go back to the League of Nations and United Nations, because here we have the war between English and French Freemasonry. All right, why don't you pick it up there, then? Okay, the League of Nations, actually the phrase League of Nations was founded or created in 1913 in French Freemasonry.

It didn't come from our President Woodrow Wilson. It's only given to him as an honorary thing because of what he did in bringing the United States into World War I. But the League of Nations, before Woodrow Wilson became a President, the idea started in French Freemasonry. It even started before First World War, as I said, 1913.

And they planned to make this League of Nations after this war. They knew that they were going to create a war, and I document this in the book. How do you document? What's the documentation? I go into the assassination of Duke Ferdinand of Hungary.

And, of course, that was actually the Masonic Lodge, wasn't it? That was the Masonic Lodge. Masons furnished the weapons. Are you talking about Archduke Ferdinand? Right, Archduke Ferdinand.

Archduke Hungary, right. Right, Masons furnished the weapons, and it was Masons that pulled the trigger and threw the bombs. And what we don't hear in our history books throughout World War I in Hungary was the trial for these assassins.

And they were sent into prison, and they died in prison. And I quote the transcript from that trial of them admitting they were Masons, they were funded by Freemasons, their weapons were given to them by Freemasons, and the whole purpose of killing Duke Ferdinand was to trigger a war, a world war, they called it, they didn't call it a world war at that time, but to trigger a European war so that they could, so Freemasonry could take over all nations in one fell swoop rather than go by nation by nation. I think it's very interesting, I have a copy, actually two copies in my library of the autobiography of Kaiser Wilhelm.

And in that book he actually talks about how he had been informed that prior to the First World War meetings had been held at the Masonic Lodges in the Grand Orient to plan the First World War. And of course their purpose was to destroy the Austro-Hungarian Empire and Germany, and of course to bring about this world government. And this is what was said by the German Kaiser, because he never understood, I mean the war didn't make any sense to him, but then it didn't make any sense to the people in the United States, it didn't make any sense to the people in England, it didn't make sense to the people in France or Russia, nobody wanted the war other than these secret societies who dreamed this dream of a one world government under their control.

Exactly, and so after the war, then the League of Nations was to bring peace around the world. And English Freemasonry boycotted it. They didn't want to have anything to do with it because they didn't control it.

Their enemy, French Freemasonry, controlled it. And so this is where the roundtables went to the League of Nations and to a hotel after the peace conference, and they created the Council on Foreign Relations. That was a majestic hotel.

That was a majestic hotel, and the whole purpose was to infiltrate or destroy the League of Nations and create a United Nations that English Freemasonry would control. And this is where they funded Hitler. The express purpose of funding Hitler and bringing on World War II was to destroy the League of Nations, and they were successful in that.

They sure were. Let's go to Tony. Hi Tony, how are you doing? Oh, pretty good, thank you.

You were talking about the origins of World War I here, the Masonic influence. Right. And in the past you've talked about the Carnegie Institute for Peace, as far as in the Congressional investigation, I believe it was in 1910, about how they... 1908 and 1999, and the quotation comes from Norman Dodd, who had had one of his agents, Miss Catherine Casey, Catherine Casey go through the records of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and even before it was incorporated, when they were still holding meetings preparatory to incorporation, they were planning on creating a war.

Right. Thank you very much for clarifying that. Well, my question is then, if the Carnegie Institute was planning for World War I, as far as how to involve the United States into this war conflict, is there a link between the Masonic Order and the Great Foundations? All right, you've got the question.

Okay, thanks, Tony. Did you get the question, John? Yes, there is a link. I haven't been able to find the link directly to Freemasonry, but it is linked to the Round Tables, the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, all of which are arms, semi-secret arms of English Freemasonry.

Oh, Tony, Andrew Carnegie was involved with the occult. I don't know if he was a Mason, but he certainly was involved with the occult, as was Henry Ford, as were so many of these key people. Now, how can I make that statement? Well, you could read the book Spiritual Politics, and if you get the book by Kathleen, let's see, her name is McLaughlin, and Kareem McLaughlin, and Davidson, Gordon Davidson, I think it is.

Fascinating, because it's written from the occultist's point of view, and they point out that Carnegie was involved with the occult. And, of course, the occultic view has always been to create this world government, and the same was true with Henry Ford, which is why Henry Ford financed Adolf Hitler. You remember, he had the Ford Motor Plants there, and he got the highest award that any civilian could get from Adolf Hitler, but he also built the Gorky Motor Plant in Russia.

And, of course, he was never getting any money out of Russia, but he was building up the Russian society, because, of course, this was a stepping stone towards world government, and it doesn't make any sense unless you understand that Henry Ford himself was deeply involved with the occult. And then, of course, it all begins to make sense, and all the little parts begin to fall in together. The interesting thing about Henry Ford, and after he got that great honor by the Nazis, he was a 32nd degree Mason at that time, and after he got that honor, he was given the 33rd degree Mason in northern jurisdiction of Freemasonry.

Isn't that interesting? Yes. And, of course, what about the Rockefellers? Is there any tie of the Rockefellers into Masonry? I can't find any direct involvement in Freemasonry. They are into the occult.

They are members of, oh, it just slipped my mind, the Satanic group here in the United States. You're not talking about the Lucis Trust? Lucis Trust. Okay.

They're a member of the Lucis Trust. Some of them certainly are. Right.

In fact, it was Lawrence Rockefeller's Fund for the Advancement of the Humanities that financed the book written by Barbara Marks Hubbard, The Revelation of the Book of Co-Creation, where she called for killing a quarter of the world's population, those defective seeds who could not evolve to a higher consciousness, and you will find that quoted in my book, Sustainable Development. We'll even send you the pages from her book if you send a self-addressed stamped envelope. This is the original manuscript that was not copyrighted, and, of course, she calls these people who will not evolve, the defective seeds who will have to be killed.

That's not your job, my dear. That's ours, for we are the riders of the pale horse, death. Yep, and all today it's called the New Age Movement.

Right. And I have two chapters in Scarlet and the Beast, the volume one, of how Freemasonry created the New Age Movement. Well, could you get into that? Because I think that is probably one of the most important aspects of this whole incredible story.

Yes. Let me make sure that I've got the two chapters in mind there and look at my notes here. Actually, of course, the magazine that the Masons published up until, I guess, what, about the late 1980s, was known as the New Age Magazine.

Right. And then, of course, as the New Age Movement began to take off, they just changed the name to the Scottish Rite Magazine. Right.

That was done in 1991. It was changed to the Scottish Rite because of the exposure by Fisher of the New Age Magazine. Now, who was Fisher and what was that expose? I've never heard about that.

Oh, Paul Fisher. Yeah, Paul Fisher. And his book, Behind the Lodged Door, of course.

Yeah, Behind the Lodged Door. I was trying to think Behind the Green Door, but it's Behind the Lodged Door, the song, Behind the Green Door. But Fisher exposed the New Age Magazine, and so they changed it to Scottish Rite in 1991.

But in Chapter 14, I document that Lucifer is the god of Freemasonry. And in Chapter 15, I document Freemasonry and the New Age Movement, how it got it started through what I call sub-lodges. In Chapter 16, the New Age Movement unites English and French Freemasonry.

And that was partly through the UN, the United Nations. But in 1889, in Paris, France, there was a great union of the Atheists, the Spiritists, the Luciferians, and Freemasonry. All four were meeting in their annual conference, and they united there in Paris, France that particular year.

And then after that, after that particular year, they started in England what I call sub-lodges. It was lodges that did not contain the name Freemasonry, but all of them founded by either 32nd- or 33rd-degree Masons. Now, that was the same year that the Socialist Internationale, the Second Socialist

Internationale, was formed, as I remember.

Right. Is there any tie-in between Masonry and the Socialist Internationale? You bet. They were meeting in Paris, France, at that same particular time.

And if I'm not mistaken, oh, the lady's name took over after Blavatsky. Annie Besant. Annie Besant spoke to that group.

She was one of the key speakers at that Internationale. She had been a member of the original Fabian Socialist Movement. Right.

Most people think these Socialists are atheists, but, of course, among the leaders, many times they were involved in the occult. And it was Annie Besant, the Fabian Socialist, who then became the disciple of Madame Blavatsky, came to run the Theosophical Occult, the Luciferian organization, up until the time she died and Alice Bailey took over. Right.

And all of this was created just before that movement. They created what is called the Quatorque Coronado Lodge of Masonic Research in England. And from that then came all of these sub-societies, the OTO, the Aleister Crowley's group came out of that.

And from this then nothing could be blamed on Freemasonry because these names did not contain the name Freemasonry. How about the Order of the Golden Dawn? The Order of the Golden Dawn was founded in 1887 by one 32nd degree Mason and one 33rd degree Mason. Okay.

And, of course, this then is another one of these subterranean occult movements which has played such an important part in the unfolding of the world's history. Right. Aleister Crowley ended up controlling that particular organization.

He was the most evil Luciferian in the world. He was a 33rd degree Mason, incidentally, and all your British rock stars today hold him up as their god. Right.

Well, now, as this whole incredible thing has unfolded, what was the position of the Masonic movement towards the separation of church and state? In other words, getting God or Christianity out of our schools and acknowledgement of the Christian foundations of America removed from contemporary society? You've got to go all the way back to the French Revolution to understand that. The French Revolution is the first to, in their revolutionary movement and in their constitution, outlawed church and state, and used that specific name, to outlaw church and state. They didn't say religion and state.

They said church and state. Likewise, in the Bolshevik Revolution in 1917, in their constitution, there was a separation of church and state. In our nation, there was freedom of religion.

There was no separation of church and state. There was no separation of state and religion at all. And what happened was, when Franklin Delano Roosevelt, a 32nd degree Mason, became president, he started stacking the Supreme Court with his buddy Masons.

And I didn't say bloody, I said buddy. His buddy Masons. And by the time 1945, there were six of the nine justices were his Scottish Rite Masons, and remained the majority on the Supreme Court until 1973.

So it was that majority of Masons that outlawed Bible and prayer in our schools. That's almost 28 years they controlled our Supreme Court when these most dramatic changes in all of recorded history took place within our society. Right.

And it was one of those justices, Justice Jackson, who made the statement that when the Supreme Court said that the thought of our founding fathers, the intent of our founding fathers, in that First Amendment of freedom of religion, said their intent was separation of church and state. And when Justice Jackson was asked, questioned why that, he said the Constitution is what we judges, Supreme Court justices, say it is. And so it was a treasonous act, to be quite frank, in doing that.

But it's interesting that it isn't separation of religion and state, it's separation of church and state. So the occult is taught in our school systems because of that. Well, of course, the interesting thing is our young people are told to make choices on their own for what they want to do.

And when they think they're ready to have sex, they should have it with the, you know, want to smoke or do these other things, they have to learn how to make intelligent choices. And that's exactly what Aleister Crowley taught, do without will, that is the whole of the law. And, of course, our activities have to be based upon, not upon our law, not upon our morality, but God's morality.

And freedom is not the ability to do whatever you want to do, it's the ability to do what you should do according to God's law. And that is never taught in our schools today. We're teaching Crowleyism and Satanism, the basic philosophy of Satanism.

That's right. But, Dr. Monteith, it was planned that way. They are willing to destroy a whole generation of children for the express purpose of wiping out Christianity.

I read the most amazing article a couple of days ago. There was a, in Southern California, there was a young man who was shooting at people driving along the highways. And he shot at about 80 people.

And he was finally picked up. And, I mean, he was a 22 or 23-year-old college student, an intelligent, a very nice-looking young man. And his comment was, and I don't know how many people he killed in the process of doing this, the highway shooter.

And he said, you know, why are you criticizing me? He said, most of you, you know, would be fantasizing doing exactly the same thing. After all, I put very little value in human life. And I thought, how could a young man in America today take an attitude that human life is unimportant? And then, of course, if you see what he's being taught in school, it's all right to abort children.

It's all right to kill off the elderly. There is no God. There's no absolutes.

You make your own decisions. Then you begin to understand that we've destroyed a whole generation of our youth. Right.

We have been desensitized by the rock and roll music and by Hollywood movies. And, of course, one of the more interesting things is the effect of the video games on the minds of our youth. You can teach them how to kill very easily.

They do it all the time in the arcades with a gun, shooting somebody, and they fall over and they're dead. These are the same men who may well be the soldiers who will be marching through our streets, strutting through our streets before long, of course, maintaining order as imposed by the authoritarian society who will think nothing at all about shooting Americans. In fact, in that questionnaire that was given to the Marines at 29 Palms by their commanders asking them if they would be willing to shoot American citizens, if they wouldn't give up their weapons, and I think 27 percent of them said they'd be quite willing to shoot fellow Americans.

Right. And I think that's frightening. And yet that's the end result of what has happened in our society, and we've allowed it to happen.

And the other frightening thing is our nation's backing of the U.N. I saw something two nights ago on the news that was extremely frightening. These U.N. peacekeepers. Oh, yes, I saw that data.

Torture and rape. And nothing was ever done to them. And nothing was ever done with them.

Even the one who was roasting the little boy over the fire. And they actually showed those pictures of them roasting the little boy over the fire, and, of course, nothing was ever done to them. Now, what's going to happen is, you see, our military cannot take up arms against our people, but the U.N. can.

And the U.N. is putting foreign troops on our bases throughout this land, and when our government is ready to take over and destroy our freedom, it's going to be the U.N. soldiers, and there's going to be murder and rape done by them. Well, that's exactly what they said in this Dateline documentary. There was murder and rape and torture carried out by the U.N. soldiers, but the U.N. had no means of disciplining them, and nothing was ever done.

So you have nothing to fear from the U.N. because you know they're not going to discipline their irresponsible soldiers. Right. Or sort of like boys will be boys, and yet we are sending our boys to be U.N. soldiers.

In fact, we're financing most of the United Nations' so-called peacekeeping operations, which is simply a means of imposing our will on nations throughout the world. And if we pay to do that, one day, can we have anything to complain about if our freedom is taken away from us, as we've taken away freedom from other people in other countries? Nope. It's going to happen here, and we're letting it happen.

No. Because we've got our head in the sand. And of course, one of the things is, hasn't it always been the objective of the World Masonic and World Occult Movement to create a one-world government under the rule of the Antichrist? Right.

And the thing is, this is nothing more than the war that Lucifer, Satan, warred against God to take over his throne. When he was cast out of heaven, the only place that he can take over now is Earth. But you know, one of the things that really bothers me is that our churches aren't speaking out against the United Nations.

I mean, anybody with half an ounce of intelligence should be able to see that the United Nations is to be the world government of the Antichrist. And where's the outcry? Where's the outrage from our religious leaders? The whole thing is that our Founding Fathers, the symbol of the Illuminati, which is on the left side on the back of our one-dollar bill, it says, announcing the birth, in Latin, it says, announcing the birth of a new world order. The purpose of the United States was founded by Freemasonry to see if 13 nations could unite under one federal government without warring with each other.

And if that could be successful, then they could unite the whole world likewise. That's the whole purpose of the United States. This United States was the catalyst.

Now, this wasn't known, but just that inner core of Freemasonry, the United States was the catalyst to bring upon this world a United Nations, a united world. If you read the book, Spirits of Politics, Corrine McLaughlin and Davidson break this very, very clearly, that the occultists have always looked upon the United Nations, pardon me, the United States as the vehicle that would bring about this one world order. And, of course, the writings of Manley Hall, one of the world's leading occultists, made that point.

America, the secret destiny of America, was to lead the world into this one world government. But, you know, my impression has always been that there were two parallel forces at work here. One was the Christian force, which motivated many of our founding fathers and many of the people who were here in America for such a long period of time.

And then this occult force, which certainly had infiltrated the upper echelons of our government, got their people to design the front and back of the great seal of the United States, which today we see on the dollar bill, and the competition between these two forces, and, of course, the constant effort to keep the occult influence down. And then eventually, of course, with the presidency of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and the Masonic influence, and then the following president, 33rd degree Harry Truman, that with this Masonic impetus, the Christian influence began to wane and the occult influence began to wax. Would you agree or disagree with that? No, I agree with that.

And this is totally prophetic. In the book of Isaiah, I don't have the scripture right now. I think it's in chapter 59.

In the book of Isaiah, the prophet says, and this is God speaking through the prophet, I will set up my standard in the West before Satan comes in. Before Satan comes in. So the church came to America first before Satan came in and took over like a flood.

That's the way the scripture states it. And I think that's really so true, and I think people have to understand the Satanic influence that has infiltrated every aspect of our society today. Now, how does this whole Masonic movement tie into the formation of the common European government and the establishment of the European currency as you see it unfolding? This is another interesting prophetic aspect.

Of course, this was the whole purpose of Freemasonry was to unite the world. It wasn't any problem with uniting the United States because it never had a kingdom. The problem is uniting Europe.

First of all, they had to throw out the kings and then set up the democracies. But the problem is uniting Europe. It wasn't a big problem here in the United States because one of the first things Congress did was what language are we going to speak here? And so the question was, was it going to be German or was it going to be English? And by one vote, it was voted to be English.

And so it's easy to unite a people when they all speak the same language. And easy to divide them when you have several languages, which is why they're encouraging the just rapid influx of so many immigrants, and so many of them Spanish-speaking, because they want to create in America exactly what they've created in Canada with the French and the English-speaking. Divide and conquer is the old adage, and they're so good at it.

The interesting thing, a prophetic part of this in Europe, is the Eurocorps, the monetary system in Europe. The Bible said there will be ten nations involved in this. Today there are 11 nations that are ready, that as of the first of this year supposedly started with the Eurodollar.

Ah, England opted out until 2002. And so we have ten nations over there with that one currency. Isn't that a coincidence? Well, we'll be back here in just a moment or two with the last half hour of our fascinating conversation with John Daniel.

Give us a call at 464-8295 or 1-888-24-LIBERTY. Here's the man who's researched this, done a great, great job. Well, this is Dr. Stan here at Radio Liberty, and of course this is the time of our program that we have to remind you of our listeners' support.

And quite frankly, I don't like asking people for money, but if we don't ask, you're not going to know that we need your help to expand our ministry across the nation. And we really need to get on major stations across America. We're not going to go out on a limb.

Exciting things have happened. We do now have the funding for six months on a major station in San Francisco. We've got to be sure that we can pay for that before we move on.

We're not going to go out on a limb, but with your help and the help of others who believe in America and are willing to make a sacrifice, hopefully we're going to gradually, step by step, expand our ministry across America. So, if you'd like to join the Radio Liberty family of supporters and help us to get the message of freedom out and the understanding of the spiritual nature of the battle in which we're involved, give us a call at 1-800-5-HIV-WAR. That's 1-800-544-8927, 1-800-5-HIV-WAR and say, I want to join the Radio Liberty family of supporters.

And you can, if you'd like to, for a suggested gift of $20 a month or more, you'll get our four best tapes and you'll get our newsletter. And we encourage you to copy everything we have and get it out. And then, of course, to help us as best you can, because we need your help so that we can reach people across America.

I had a, as I mentioned in the first hour, we had a state assemblyman call me today as administrative aide and ask for some information we'd mentioned in our last newsletter, which we're sending out to key people across the country. And he asked for certain specific things. We're going to send him those and other things.

And the aide commented that they had a lot of supporters in their area and they'd get our information to them. So that's, of course, what we do. And your financing and your help goes to help us to be able to send these things out to some people for nothing.

If we can get it into the hands of a man like this assemblyman, that he's going to be able to reach literally hundreds of other people if we can convince him of the true nature of the spiritual battle in which we're currently engaged. Again, the telephone number if you'd like to become part of the Radio Liberty family. If you'd like to be part of something, an organization that's doing something to try to save America, give us a call.

1-800-5-HIV-WAR Our address, Post Office Box 13 in Santa Cruz, 95063. That's Post Office Box 13 in Santa Cruz, 95063. Or, of course, 1-800-5-HIV-WAR Okay, Dr. Stan, back here at Radio Liberty.

Our telephone number, 464-8295, or out across America, 1-888-24-Liberty. And right now we have Doug on the line. Hi, Doug.

How are you doing? I'm doing pretty good. How are you doing? I'm doing fine. Yeah, I was just calling.

I pretty much had an impression that George Washington and Thomas Jefferson, those guys were Freemasons. Well, certainly George Washington was, but the masonry that he believed in had not become occultic at all. The occult influence came into America much, much later, after Washington.

In fact, if you read Washington's writings, as he's an older man, he warned against the influence of the Illuminati and these other influences, which he recognized were coming into masonry. And although, as a young man, he did attend the lodges, apparently he attended very seldom after that. Would you comment on that, John? Yes.

In the United States was both the French and the English lodges. George Washington joined an English lodge before the Revolution. And during the Revolution, they turned all the British lodges into American lodges.

They called it the severed relationship with the English lodges. And George Washington never set foot in a British lodge after that. He remained a Freemasonry.

He never renounced Freemasonry. He corresponded with masons. He loved Freemasonry because of its democracy and because of its force in bringing our nation into power.

But he was also made aware of the infiltration of American Freemasonry by the European Illuminati. And just before his death, he warned the Americans to get rid of the lodges because of this cancer of the Illuminati. He loved the lodges, but he knew that the Illuminati was Luciferian and that it was nothing but evil.

So he recommended the closure of the lodges because of that. Okay. Now, as far as Thomas Jefferson is concerned, Doug, Thomas Jefferson was certainly a deist.

He was never a Christian. John, Jefferson, do we actually know for certain he was a member of the Masonic Lodge? Thomas Jefferson is claimed by Freemasonry. In Washington, D.C., he is shown in one of the buildings there with his Masonic apron on.

I've not found any documentation where he was a Mason. However, he was a member of the Columbian Illuminati Lodge. And John Adams accused Thomas Jefferson of furthering the work of the Illuminati in the United States.

And, of course, for a time there was a great feud between Jefferson and Adams, and eventually they sort of made up as they got to be older, didn't they? Yes. I think they both died on July 4th, and they were trying to one outlast the other in that. Well, of course, I think as Adams was dying, the story is told, he said, How is Thomas Jefferson? Is he still alive? And they said, Yes.

And he said, Then the Republic lives on. And I think, Doug, you have to understand that Jefferson was a brilliant man. I mean, we owe him a great deal for his Declaration of Independence.

But what he had done was crystallized in the Declaration the writings of a number of Christian authors. Because, you see, all the literature on freedom up to that time, most of it came from Christian writers. And whether it be the writings of Samuel Rutherford, who had written Lex Rex, The Law is King, where he said that all men were created equal, or whether he was quoting Blackstone and John Locke, these ideas of nature's God and nature's law.

All of the ideas that he put forward in the Declaration had come from Christian writers, because it was the Christian writers at that time who were talking about the fact that since we were all created in sin, why should the king who was created in sin be able to rule the rest of us? God had given us freedom, and we were entitled to freedom. And that was the basic thrust of the Declaration. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator, with certain unalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

But Thomas Jefferson could never accept the divinity of Jesus Christ. He could accept his ministry, and he could accept that he had a wonderful philosophy of love of your fellow men, and not striking back in anger, but after all, the foundation of Christianity is the divinity of Jesus Christ, not the fact that he had a good philosophy. So this was one of Thomas Jefferson's major defects, and the difference between he and Washington as far as slavery.

Jefferson was against slavery, but upon his death he released, I don't know, four or eight of his slaves. George Washington not only released all of his slaves, but endowed their possibility of getting an education, so they could live not simply as laborers, but as free men in a free society. Washington was much more of a moralist than Thomas Jefferson was.

So that's all I can really tell you, Doug. All right, thanks. Okay, fine, thank you.

And our telephone number is 464-8295 or 1-888-24-Liberty. Give us a call if you have a question or comment, because I think that John Daniels certainly knows more about this subject than just about anyone else in the country. Now, one of the things, of course, which has always been used to throw people off the track, to try to confuse them about what this world movement is, is the Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion.

And, of course, this then is used by racists and bigots to push anti-Semitism. But what is the true origin of the Protocols? Because this is seminal to understanding what's going on today in this move towards world government. The Protocols of the Learned Elders of Zion is spelled not with a Z but with an S. It is a French publication.

It was stolen from a French lodge in 1884, and it was sold. In fact, it was stolen by a Mason, and it was sold and carried to Russia. And what you're suggesting, then, this is the Masonic plan rather than... Right, it's Masonic.

It is the Priory. It's the group of the Priory. In fact, it was stolen from a Priory of Zion Lodge.

That's I-O-N. And, of course, this then is this whole movement that you've been discussing, the so-called Rosicrucian. Right.

Masonry, right? Yes, it has nothing to do with Zionism, Z-I-O-N, which is what is in Israel today, the political movement of Zionism, which actually started in Russia in 1860 and had their first Zionist meeting in 1897. But the Priory of Zion, then, was carried into Russia by the O-T-O Lodge, the Ordo Templar Orientis Lodge, and it was used as an anti-Jewish document to start the pogroms, to accuse the Jews of writing this. And they had nothing to do with it.

And, of course, it was really, I've always felt, and I'd like to know your opinion, that what it really was was sort of a smoke screen behind which this whole world occult movement could continue to grow, because people would begin to see this world revolutionary movement and say, somebody's got to be behind it, and what better group to blame than Jews, so that the real occultic foundation of the world revolutionary movement would not be recognized, and also because the occultists always hate the Jews. Right. And as you look at the real power behind these secret societies, it's Satan.

And Satan does not want God's people here on Earth, and that is the Christians and the Jews. And so what he does is he weaves this around so that the world, then, is against Christianity and against Judaism. And, of course, that was really the main reason behind Hitler's anti-Semitism, was because of his occult connections, and although they pushed the protocols in Hitler's Germany, it was really the occultism of the Nazi movement that was responsible for the anti-Semitism, not the protocols as such.

But they had to circulate that among the people to justify what they were doing. Absolutely. All of these things are so vitally important that people begin to understand.

Now, what influence does Masonry have in the media in the United States today? Total control. I say total control. Fox News is so young, I can't make any connection.

But ABC, CBS, and NBC are all Masonic-controlled, and their symbol is the all-seeing eye. Well, that's, of course, CBS is the symbol of the all-seeing eye. It's obvious.

NBC, the peacock, you've got the all-seeing eye all over the peacock feathers. Not in their symbol, but that's your analogy. And then you have the sun disk on ABC, which is a stylized all-seeing eye.

Now, of course, let's see. These are really controlled by Time Warner, by Disney, and Westinghouse. No, I guess Time Warner controls CNN.

GE, Disney, and General Electric control the other three. Yeah, that's today. But you go all the way back to their roots, and it was Masonic-controlled.

Now, document this in my book. I have a whole chapter on the Masonic control of the media. But, of course, what's the influence of the Masonic movement within Westinghouse, Disney, and General Electric today? Do you have any ties on that? Once you get that far removed, you don't have to have those particular organizations directly tied to Freemasonry.

Just like the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, you can't make a direct connection to it. But the people that are in control of it know exactly what their duty is in this. And that is to control or manipulate or create public opinion.

All right. And, of course, that's the great tragedy we have today. I think there are about 200 members of the Council on Foreign Relations working within the media.

And according to Richard Harwood in his classical article entitled Ruling Class Journalists, which was printed in the Washington Post on the 30th of October, 1993, he said, this is the closest thing we have to a ruling establishment. Those people working within the media don't necessarily report the news. They make it happen.

And then he went on to quote John Vanden Heuvel, something of the sort, stating that basically by focusing public opinion on certain issues, they can force a government to accede to their demands. And that's really what it's all about. Yeah, this is what the polls are for.

Sure. Manipulate. Right.

And we're constantly being manipulated by a media which is largely controlled by people who do have an agenda. And you try to get articles in that really tell a true story, sometimes they'll come under tremendous, tremendous pressure or they'll simply spike the stories. Now, basically, what about the Luciferian connection? Do you think that the average individual who's involved with these lodges and movements really understands that this is truly Luciferian and is part of the devil's plan to take over the world? No, they don't know that.

They're kept ignorant. In fact, Albert Pike even says that in his Luciferian book, Morals and Dogma. He says the blue degrees and the blue degrees are the first three degrees.

The blue degrees are but the outer court or portico of the temple. Part of the symbols are displayed there to the initiate, but he is intentionally misled by false interpretations. It is not intended that he shall understand them, but it is intended that he shall imagine he understands them and whosoever attempts to undeceive them will labor in vain.

So it's a deception. The first degree, they put a hoodwink, a black hood over their head. Hoodwink.

You look it up in the dictionary and it's a deception. And so if they look at the symbols, they are deceived from the very first degree on. And by degree, they're given a little more light, a little more light.

And by degree, it's just like putting a frog in hot water. It's going to jump out. But if you put it in cold water and then you put it on the oven and turn up the heat, the frog will just lay there and boil because he doesn't feel it.

And that's what's happening to Freemasons. By degree, they are led into Luciferianism, anti-Christian doctrine. And of course what they learn eventually is the source of the light who they are required to search for in the first and second and third degrees.

And as they go along and they're always searching for the light and not until they get to a certain point and begin to study, do they begin to understand the true source of that light, who is the angel of light, Lucifer. Right. And Albert Pike even in Morals and Dogmen.

And every third degree Mason is given his book, Morals and Dogmen. Here's what he writes about Lucifer in this book. He says, The apocalypse is, to those who receive the 19th degree, the apotheosis of that sublime faith which aspires to God alone and despises all the prompts and works of Lucifer.

Lucifer, the light bearer. Strange and mysterious name to give to the spirit of darkness. Lucifer, the sun of the morning.

Is it he who bears the light and with its splendors, intolerable, blind, feeble, sensuous, and selfish souls? Doubt it not. And that's page 321 of Morals and Dogma. And we've got Rory on the line.

Hi, Rory. Hi, Dr. Stan. How are you doing? I'm doing fine.

How are you? Great. Hey, just a quick side note to the people in the media, the media elite that are Masons. I had run across an article.

I didn't read it, but I was waiting to get my hair cut. And it was Fortune Magazine, I believe. And it was recent, this past year, 98.

Anyway, there was a whole article on Brian Williams, who is, I believe, the heir apparent of Broca? I don't know. I forget which network he's with. I think it's ABC.

Anyway, the cover picture or the initial photograph of him in the article, he's wearing a suit and he's got his arms crossed. And I believe his right cuff link is very apparent. It's pretty easily the spot.

And right on that cuff link is the five-point star. And I couldn't make out the insignia on the star, but it's pretty obvious as to what it is. And I just thought that was interesting to see that symbolism displayed so prominently by him in a prominent photograph.

I think there's just so many things out there, you know, that people should begin to pick up on. When you talked about that, I thought there was going to be the triangle with the all-seeing eye in it. No, it was the five-pointed star.

I believe it's a tip-off. I think that's how these guys let each other know who's who, where. It is.

It is. Yeltsin tipped off the world that he was a Mason by wearing cuff links, which was the square and the compass. Oh, no kidding.

Yes, I've got that picture. No wonder he's getting so much money out of the American taxpayers. That's all I had, and it's a fascinating lesson, and God bless you and your guest.

Thanks so much, Roy. Thank you. Okay, fine.

Okay, our telephone number, 464-8295 or 1-888-24-Liberty, if you're out there. We're just about drawing to the end of the program, so if you've got a question, you'd better get it in now. I was just thinking, as Roy was telling about that wonderful movie.

I don't know if you ever saw it, Sean. It was called The Man Who Would Be King with Sean Connery, and it was about these explorers off somewhere at the Himalayas or Tabata. And, of course, one of them is wearing this Masonic symbol.

Of course, this is a book written by Rudyard Kipling, who himself is a Mason, and Sean Connery is wearing this triangle with the all-seeing eye in it. And when he gets into this place that they're looking for that supposedly has all this wonderful treasure, you know, he's originally captured, and they're thinking about killing him until they see the Masonic symbol, and then they all fall down and worship him because he obviously is the God. He has the symbol of a God.

And, of course, if any of our listeners have not seen the movie, go down and read it at your local blockbuster, The Man Who Would Be God, and then you'll understand the symbolism. If you have the Masonic symbol, of course, you have the key to becoming God. And, really, at the time you see it, if you don't understand where Rudyard Kipling is coming from, it's just a great movie.

And when you understand the real symbology behind it, of course, it's the key to so much of this whole movement towards the establishment of a one-world government and this belief that Satan gave to Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. If you eat of the fruit of the tree of the knowledge in good and evil, ye shall be as gods, and ye shall never die. And that, of course, is what it's really all about, man replacing God and bringing the kingdom of heaven to earth without God.

On the books, Scarlet and the Beast, are you there? Yes, yes. Okay. What you sell on those in the next seven days are going to be given by John Craigle Publishing as a donation to your ministry.

Well, thank you so very much. We'll appreciate it. So, our listeners out there, I hope you're listening.

I hope you'll want to get Scarlet and the Beast. And it's available if you're calling 1-800-5-HIV-WAR. It's a very fascinating book because it goes into the English Freemasonry, how banks, the illegal drug trade.

I thought that was so fascinating. Do you want to just briefly touch on the illegal drug trade? Because we have so many books written now that point out that the illegal drug trade, which we're supposedly fighting so hard, is actually being fostered by elements within our own government who are not trying to stop the drugs from coming in. They're fighting the war against drugs the way we fought the war in Vietnam.

They're fighting to lose. Do you want to pick up on that? Yes. The source scripture for that is Revelation 18-23.

And it says about Mystery Babylon, "...by thy sorceries were the nations deceived." And that word, sorceries, it's the only place that it's used in the Bible, is mind-bending, it means in the Greek, mind-bending, pushers of mind-bending potions. And so this is why Scarlet and the Beast, Scarlet being English Freemasonry, I document in Volume 3 that English Freemasonry controls the growing, manufacturing, and pushing of the worldwide drug traffic. And of course we know that certainly the English did that, that's what the opium wars were all about, not to stop opium but to force it on the Chinese people.

And of course the drug traffic has been used for many years to corrupt and destroy societies and it's certainly doing a fantastic job of destroying America today. 60% of the world's drug usage, illegal drug usage, is in the United States. So there is another opium war.

Right, but the war is against the American people and the American people don't even understand that this is being fostered by our own government. And if anybody doubts that, they ought to read that wonderful book, The Secret Life of Bill Clinton by Ambrose Everett Pritchard, which touches on how our government is involved in drugs or Monica Stevenson's book, Kiss the Boy's Goodbye, or Terry Reid's book Compromised, or Gary Webb's new book, or Celerino Castillo's Powder Burns. I mean there's so many, the new book certainly Defrauding America, but Scott and the Beast gets into the background behind.

All of these tell you what's happening. Scott and the Beast tells you why. And of course it has to do with this whole world occult movement, which is really infecting every aspect of our society today.

And the three volumes, I promise you, you'll never look at the world through the same eyes again. Now, of course, you've got, how long did it take you to write this book, these three books? I started research in college in 1970, understood it by 1972, kept researching, started writing in 1982, and finished writing by 1992. It went to the editor in 1993, and the first volume came out in 1994.

I'm sure I saw the advertisements for the first edition of that, and I was quite intrigued. I didn't get it though until just a couple of years ago. Now, what about banking? How does this whole thing tie into international finance fears? In the third volume, the subtitle of the book is English Freemasonry, Banks, and the Illegal Drug Trade.

The banks, you have to understand that this movement, the intent of this movement, is to bring about a one-world government. To be able to do that, they've got to control the economy of the world, which means also the banking. And because there's not enough revenue in any nations or all the nations coupled together, there is not enough revenue to fund this world revolution, to bring in a one-world government, they have opted to the drug trade, where there is no taxation.

And we're talking about now upwards to a trillion dollars a year income to this occult movement through the drug trade. Non-taxable. And the banks now have been set up to accept that since 1978.

The banks have been set up in Switzerland to take all illegal funds for their movement. And we're talking about not only the drug movement, but mafia, anything that is illegal. We're talking about gun running, the whole bit, is cycled through a bank in Zurich, Switzerland.

And when I wrote my book, it was about $500 billion a year. Now it's close to a trillion a year income that they use. And I'm sure that they know exactly who it is.

They just don't want the American people to know. John, thank you so much for being with us again. I hope from time to time we can call on you.

I think it's fascinating. I think our listeners need to know these facts. The book is available by calling 1-800-5-HIV-WAR.

It's entitled Scarlet and the Beast. It's three volumes. So it's a lot of heavy reading.

It weighs about five pounds, but it's well worth it. John, thank you so much. God bless you and may He keep you safe.

Thank you. And Lord bless you. And you too.

Bye-bye. And this is Dr. Stan saying, pray for our country. Pray for revival in America.

And certainly pray for Radio Liberty. For our provision and our protection. And we'll be back with you tomorrow at the same time.
