

January 16. He Cares for You

by J.R. Miller

Transcript

"The Mighty One has done great things for me!" Luke 1:49

It is astonishing that the mighty God, so great, so holy " should ever think of a poor, lowly sinner on this earth!

But does He really? It scarcely seems possible! Only consider how many millions of people there are in this world. Can it be, that the glorious God ever gives a personal, special thought " to any one person, among so many? He may give personal thought to a few great people " to kings and rulers, and to certain very good men and women; but surely He does not think of anyone so small and obscure as I am. Ah yes! He does!

You remember that a child (Ishmael) was once dying of thirst in a desert " and God heard its cries amid all the noise of the world, and sent an angel to point out a spring of water, and thus save its life.

You remember, too, that story of the little baby (Moses) " that the mother could no longer herself shelter, and which she put into a little basket and laid among the reeds beside the river; and you remember how God cared for that helpless infant and provided for it in a wonderful way.

Then you remember that Jesus said our heavenly Father cares even for each small sparrow and feeds it, and that He even clothes each little flower in the field.

If there is not a bird or a flower that He does not think of and care for " then surely He gives thought and care to us, His people! We are better than a sparrow, better than a flower. We have immortal souls. We are God!
