

'Weep and You Weep Alone'

by Leonard Ravenhill

Leonard Ravenhill emphasizes the profound significance of weeping in the Christian faith, contrasting it with the superficiality of laughter.

Duration: 0:26

Scripture: Psalm 34:18, Psalm 51:17, Matthew 5:4, James 4:8

Topics: "Spiritual Humility", "Emotional Worship"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the contrast between worldly joy and the depth of spiritual connection with God through weeping and humility. It highlights the importance of genuine emotional expression in the church community and the profound experience of being close to the heart of God, as seen in a powerful Friday night prayer meeting where God's presence brought humility and brokenness.

Transcript

You know, we're overboard on laughter and happiness. There's an old saying in the world, laugh and the world laughs with you. I change it.

I say, laugh and the church laughs with you, but weep and you weep alone. You go so near to the heart of God. We sang it on Friday.

We had a marvelous Friday night prayer meeting. I wouldn't have taken that Friday night meeting for $10,000. God came and we were broken and humiliated before him.
