Transcript

Grace, grace, God's grace, that will pardon and cleanse within. Grace, God's grace, that will bring my life freely bestowed on all who believe His face. Will you this moment His grace receive? Grace, God's grace, that will pardon and cleanse within.

Grace, that is greater than all our sin. While you edge, while we praise, while every head is bowed, I ask you one question. Have your sins been washed away in the blood of the Lamb that we sang about in the early part of the service? Are you a grace-covered Christian tonight? Oh, so many wonderful songs have been written about the grace of God and the Bible's full of the grace of God.

Right now, out in listening land and looking land, are you unhappy, miserable, confused? Maybe you've accepted religion, been to all these old quack doctors, but you've never yet been saved. Wouldn't you come right now and put your faith in the Lord Jesus and say, God, be merciful to me, the sinner, and wash away all my sin? Miss Ernestine's coming to sing, please. Had it not been for a place called Mount Calvary, had it not been for the old rugged cross, had it not been for a man called Jesus, then my soul forever would be lost.

We invite you to meet us here at the altar right now, quickly, while she comes to sing. We'll wait for you here, wait for you, with you. Come and trust Him tonight, won't you, right now? Just suppose God saves you this time, come right on.

Talk to grace tonight. He was willing to cut from me, and to torment me, and to cut me open, for as long as I live.
