

Looking to God

by Mary Wilder Tileston

---

When we trust in God, we experience happiness and joy in all aspects of our lives, from our daily comforts to our daily duties.

Scripture: Psalm 16:11, Proverbs 16:20, Romans 15:13, Philippians 4:4, 1 Peter 1:8

Topics: "Trusting God", "Eternal Joy"

Description

Mary Wilder Tileston preaches about the happiness found in trusting the Lord, emphasizing that when God is our ultimate focus and we can declare Him as our God, everything in life takes on new meaning and joy. Daily comforts become opportunities for thanksgiving, challenges are seen as tenderly designed by God for our growth, and even the simplest tasks hold deep significance when done in acknowledgment of God's love. The earth, the air we breathe, and the sun shining above all become reminders of God's encompassing love. Through faith, hope, and love, we experience a foretaste of the eternal joy awaiting us in the presence of our Almighty God.

Whoso trusteth in the Lord, happy is he.

--PROVERBS 16:20

THIS world of ours is a happy world, so that God is our end, so that we can say to Him, "Thou art my God." Then everything takes new hues of joy and love. Our daily comforts have a soul in them, for they abound in thanksgiving; our daily infirmities or crosses have a special joy in them, because they are so tenderly fitted to us by the medicinal hand of our God; the commonest acts of life are full of deep interest, because their end is God; daily duties are daily joys, because they are something which God gives us to offer unto Him, to do to our very best, in acknowledgment of His love. It is His earth we walk on; His air, we breathe; His sun, the emblem of His all-penetrating love, which gladdens us. Eternity! Yes, that too is present to us, and is part of our joy on earth. God has given us faith to make our future home as certain to us, as this our spot of earth; and hope, to aspire strongly to it; and love, as a foretaste of the all-surrounding, ever-unfolding, Almighty love of our own God.
