

Short Time for God

by Mary Wilder Tileston

We can make time for God in our busy lives and experience spiritual growth and renewal by drawing near to Him.

Scripture: Psalm 27:8, Psalm 62:8, Psalm 73:28, Matthew 11:28, Colossians 3:17

Topics: "Intimacy With God", "Worship"

Description

Mary Wilder Tileston emphasizes the importance of drawing near to God, finding peace and joy in His presence, and sharing our cares, woes, and hopes with Him. She encourages making the most of even the smallest moments to love God, worship Him, and offer our lives to Him. Tileston reminds us that there is always time to seek God's smile and that turning our hearts towards Him sweetens and sanctifies all our actions.

Transcript

It is good for me to draw near to God.

PSALMS 73:28

AND the sea of care grows still

In the shining of Thy smile;

And Thy love's all-quickenng ray

Chases night and pain away,

That my heart grows light the while.

WOLFGANG CHRISTOPH DESSLER

IF we believe that God is always at hand, always ready to hear, surely we should take delight in telling Him all our little cares, and woes, and hopes, as they flit by.

H. L. SEDNEY LEAR

If you have not much time at your disposal, do not fail to profit by the smallest portions of time which remain to you. We do not need much time in order to love God, to renew ourselves in His Presence, to lift up our hearts towards Him, to worship Him in the depths of our hearts, to offer Him what we do and what we suffer.

FRANCOIS DE LA MOTHE FÉNELON

There is always time to look up to Him for His smile.

F. B. MEYER

These frequent looks of the heart exceedingly sweeten and sanctify our other employments, and diffuse somewhat of heaven through all our actions.
