

Hard Circumstances Are The Lifting Places Into The Grace of God

by Michael L. Brown

This sermon emphasizes the transformative power of God's breaking process in our lives, leading to a deeper understanding of His long-suffering promise. It highlights the necessity of being broken by God to experience His grace and to be lifted into a new level of spiritual growth and maturity.

Scripture: Psalm 51:17, 2 Corinthians 4:8, Psalm 34:18, James 1:2

Topics: "Transformation through Brokenness", "Experiencing God's Grace"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the transformative power of God's breaking process in our lives, leading to a deeper understanding of His long-suffering promise. It highlights the necessity of being broken by God to experience His grace and to be lifted into a new level of spiritual growth and maturity.

Transcript

Before God could bring me to this place, He broke me a thousand times. I have wept, I have groaned, I have travailed many a night until God broke me. Whoa! Seems to me that until God has mowed you down, you never can have this long-suffering promise.

Remember that, men and women of God, until God has mowed you down, you can never have this long-suffering promise. There have been times when I have been pressed through circumstances and it seemed as if a dozen railroad engines were going over me. But I have found that the hardest things are just lifting places into the grace of God.
