

Tears of the Saints

by Paul Hattaway

The task of missions is not over, and we must penetrate and plant the church, seeing it flourish and train its own people to evangelize its own networks.

Scripture: Psalm 126:5-6, Matthew 28:19-20, Luke 15:11-32, John 14:6, Hebrews 11:38-39

Topics: "Missions Evangelism", "Hell Salvation"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the ongoing mission of reaching unreached people groups with the gospel of Jesus Christ. It highlights the urgent need to penetrate cultures, plant churches, train leaders, and evangelize networks to bring people back to God. The message stresses the reality of hell and the importance of Jesus Christ as the only means of salvation, calling for a compassionate response to the brokenness and desperation in society.

Transcript

The job is not done in the world that Christ gave us to do, and the mandate is still binding on us today. That's why we speak of unreached people groups. But the mission is the back-breaking, culture-penetrating, darkness-shattering initial work to penetrate, plant the church, see it flourish, get its own elders, train its own people, evangelize its own networks.

That's the task of missions. It's not over. That Jesus Christ is the only way to heaven, and the alternative is hell, and millions and millions and millions of people are on their way there, and we have the only means of escape in our heads, and in our hearts, Jesus Christ.

There are many prodigal sons on our city streets they run, searching for shelter, and there are homes broken down, people's hopes have fallen to the ground from failings. This is an emergency, and there are tears from the saints for the lost and unsaved. We're crying for them, come back home.

We're crying for them, come back home. And all your children will stretch out their hands and pick up the crippled man. Father, we will lead them home.

Father, we will lead them home. There are schools full of hatred, even churches have forsaken love and mercy. May we see this generation in its state of desperation for your glory.

This is an emergency, and there are tears from the saints for the lost and unsaved. We're crying for them, come back home. We're crying for them, come back home.

And all your children will stretch out their hands and pick up the crippled man. Thousands and thousands of missionaries, the unnamed, no biographies written about them, just unnamed people of whom the world is not worthy, have counted this cost and put their lives at risk, and reached the lost with the only message of salvation.

Video: <https://sermonindex2.b-cdn.net/TIRiZEsLOKo.mp4>
Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/paul-hattaway/tears-of-the-saints/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net