

The Wisdom To Listen To The Counself Of Your Wife

by Randy Krahn

This sermon emphasizes the importance of listening to one's wife, drawing parallels from the stories of Naaman and Abraham who both benefited from heeding their wives' advice. It highlights the significance of discerning when our spouse speaks from the Holy Spirit, as God can use them to guide us in important decisions.

Scripture: Proverbs 18:22, Ephesians 5:25, 1 Peter 3:7, Genesis 21:12, 1 John 4:1

Topics: "Listening to Spouses", "Divine Guidance through Marriage"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the importance of listening to one's wife, drawing parallels from the stories of Naaman and Abraham who both benefited from heeding their wives' advice. It highlights the significance of discerning when our spouse speaks from the Holy Spirit, as God can use them to guide us in important decisions.

Transcript

Listen to the voice of his wife and he asked the king of Syria if he could go to Israel because there was a prophet there who would heal him of his leprosy. And in this occasion, Naaman listened to his wife, even as there was a point in time when Abraham listened to his wife. And it went well with him because his wife had said, we need to get Hagar and this son Ishmael out of our house.

And what happened at that time is God backed up the words of his wife at that time and said, listen to your wife. So when we listen to our wife, the spirit has to bear witness with us, this is from the Holy Spirit. Then we listen to our wife when she's speaking from the Holy Spirit.
