

Yielding Our Dreams Hopes and Plans

by Randy Krahn

This sermon emphasizes the need to cut off sin and the passing nature of worldly pride. It highlights the danger of seeking greatness for ourselves in various fields without submitting to the lordship of Jesus Christ, as it can lead to self-worship. The importance of surrendering our will to Jesus is stressed to avoid self-deception and to align our dreams and plans with God's will.

Scripture: Matthew 5:30, 1 John 2:16, Philippians 2:3, James 4:7, Galatians 2:20

Topics: "Cutting Off Sin", "Surrendering to God's Will"

Transcript

To sin, we need to cut it off. And the world is passing away the pride of life. Wanting to make a name for ourselves, like Brother Downs shared, whether to be a great preacher, or whether to be a great businessman, whether to be a great sports athlete, or whether to be a great musician.

Whatever our greatness, our aspiration is, it has to come under the headship of Jesus Christ. Otherwise, we'll have another head. S-E-L-F.

You'll be worshiping your Lord, yourself. God has given us a will, and that will has to be surrendered to the Lordship of Jesus Christ. If we don't surrender our will, then we'll deceive ourselves.

We'll have all of our dreams and hopes and plans, and we'll want the Lord to come along with them, like we shared last week, rather than being yielded to the Lord Jesus Christ and the Spirit of God.
