

An Unbroken Christianity full of Self

by Santosh Poonen

This sermon focuses on the concept of vessels of dishonor as described in 2 Timothy 3:5, where individuals may outwardly display a form of godliness but lack the true power of God in their lives. It warns against a superficial Christianity that merely wraps Christ around one's own desires and self, emphasizing the need for genuine transformation and surrender to Christ.

Scripture: 2 Timothy 3:5, Matthew 7:21, Romans 12:2, Galatians 2:20, Philippians 2:3

Topics: "Superficial Christianity", "Genuine Transformation"

Description

This sermon focuses on the concept of vessels of dishonor as described in 2 Timothy 3:5, where individuals may outwardly display a form of godliness but lack the true power of God in their lives. It warns against a superficial Christianity that merely wraps Christ around one's own desires and self, emphasizing the need for genuine transformation and surrender to Christ.

Transcript

Vessels of dishonor, you can summarize them this way in 2nd Timothy 3, verse 5, a few verses down from where we were just reading that these vessels of dishonor will hold to a form of godliness, but they have denied its power. Holding to a form of godliness, but they have denied its power. So there will be people, and it will increase as the time of Christ returns, who will try to come up with this brand of Christianity where they create an unbroken version of Christianity.

A version of Christianity that is still me, underneath, with Christ as a wrapper around me. Still me underneath and Christ as a wrapper around me.
