

His People's Scars and Warts

by Thomas Brooks

God sees beyond our weaknesses and focuses on our worth in Him, covering our sins with unconditional love.

Scripture: Psalm 103:12, Song of Solomon 4:7, Isaiah 43:25, Romans 8:1, 1 John 1:9

Topics: "Identity in Christ", "God's Grace"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes that God lovingly acknowledges the scars and imperfections of His people, focusing instead on their beauty and worth. He illustrates that just as Caesar highlighted his own flaws, God chooses to overlook the sins He has forgiven, seeing only the fair and lovely aspects of His children. This assurance of God's grace encourages believers to embrace their identity in Christ, free from the burden of past sins.

Transcript

When Caesar was painted, he put his finger upon his scar, his wart. God puts His fingers upon all His people's scars and warts--upon all their weaknesses and infirmities, that nothing can be seen but what's fair and lovely.

"You are all fair, my love; there is no spot in you."

Canticles 4:7.

The Lord will not look, He will not see, He will not take notice of the sins He has pardoned--to call them any more to a judicial account.
