

Look to Your Walking

by Thomas Brooks

To be spiritually rich, one must focus on walking uprightly and developing a close relationship with God.

Scripture: Psalm 84:11, Proverbs 4:26, Micah 6:8, Matthew 7:21, 2 Corinthians 5:7, Galatians 5:16, Ephesians 5:8, Colossians 1:10, James 1:22, 1 John 2:6

Topics: "Obedience to God", "Spiritual Walk"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the significance of one's walk with God, asserting that true spiritual richness comes not from knowledge or mere words, but from a life lived in obedience and closeness to God. He highlights that those who walk uprightly will receive grace and glory, and that a close-walking soul experiences the fullness of spiritual blessings. Brooks encourages believers to focus on their daily walk with God to attain true spiritual wealth.

Transcript

"The Lord will give grace and glory, and no good thing will

He withhold from those who walk uprightly." Psalm 84:11

If ever you would be spiritually rich, look to your walking.

It is not the knowing soul, nor the talking soul--but the close-walking soul, the obediential soul--who is in spirituals the richest soul. Others may be rich in notions--but none so rich in spiritual experiences, and in all holy and heavenly grace--as close-walking Christians.
