

Most of Hell in Their Souls

by Thomas Brooks

Those who live hellish lives will ultimately face the consequences of their actions and have hell in their souls.

Scripture: Matthew 12:34, Galatians 6:7

Topics: "Inner Transformation", "Divine Justice"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the concept of divine justice, arguing that those who embody hellish qualities in their speech, hearts, and lives will ultimately face the consequences of having hell within their souls. He warns that the manifestation of wickedness in one's life is a reflection of the inner state, leading to eternal separation from God. Brooks calls for self-examination and repentance to avoid such a fate, urging listeners to seek a transformation of the heart.

Transcript

That those who have . . . most of hell in their mouths, and most of hell in their hearts, and most of hell in their lives--should have most of hell in their souls at last, is but justice.
