Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes that Christ is the chief good, the ultimate source of all goodness for Christians. He illustrates how Christ fulfills every need, serving as bread for nourishment, a fountain for refreshment, a physician for healing, a rock for shelter, a light for guidance, and a crown for honor. This portrayal highlights the comprehensive nature of Christ's provision and care for His followers, affirming His unparalleled value in their lives.

Transcript

"My Beloved is white and ruddy, the chief among ten thousand." Song of Songs 5:10
Christ is the chief good.
All good is in the chief good.
Christ is all things to Christians. He is . . .
bread to feed them,
a fountain to refresh them,
a physician to heal them,
a rock to shelter them,
a light to guide them, and
a crown to crown them!
