

The Eye of Heaven

by Thomas Brooks

The presence of a wise and all-knowing God brings comfort and transcendence in our troubles and deepest distresses.

Scripture: Psalm 139:1, Hebrews 4:13

Topics: "Comfort in Trials", "God's Omniscience"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the omniscience of God in his sermon 'The Eye of Heaven,' reminding believers that nothing is hidden from God's sight. He reassures that God is aware of all our troubles, sorrows, and sufferings, providing comfort in knowing that we are never alone in our struggles. The presence of an all-seeing and all-knowing God serves as a source of strength and solace during our deepest distresses. Brooks highlights the importance of recognizing God's wisdom and understanding in our lives.

Transcript

"All things are naked and opened unto the eyes of Him with whom we have to do." Hebrews 4:13

Each believer has the presence of a WISE God, of an omniscient God. God fills all things, He encompasses all things, and He sustains all things--and therefore He must need know all things! The whole world is to Him, as a sea of glass--clear and transparent.

There is nothing hidden from His eyes!

The eye of heaven sees all, and knows all of . . .

your troubles and trials,

your sorrows and sufferings,

your losses and crosses!

Is it such a comfort to have the presence of a wise and knowing friend with us in our greatest troubles and deepest distresses? What a transcendent comfort must it be then to enjoy the presence of an all-seeing and an all-knowing God in all our troubles and distresses!
