

The Eyes of the Lord

by Thomas Brooks

God is an all-seeing God who observes and examines all aspects of our lives, holding us accountable for our actions.

Scripture: Psalm 139:1, Proverbs 5:21, Hebrews 4:13

Topics: "Accountability to God", "God's Omniscience"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the omnipresence and omniscience of God, illustrating that nothing escapes His sight. He describes God as attentive to every aspect of our lives, from our thoughts to our actions, reminding us that we are accountable to Him. Brooks uses the metaphor of a well-drawn picture, suggesting that God's gaze is always upon us, guiding and observing our paths. The sermon serves as a call to live with awareness of God's watchful eyes, encouraging believers to align their lives with His will.

Transcript

"Nothing in all creation is hidden from God's sight.

Everything is uncovered and laid bare before the eyes of Him to whom we must give account."

Hebrews 4:13

God is . . .

all ear to hear,

all hand to punish,

all power to protect,

all wisdom to direct,

all goodness to relieve,

all grace to pardon,

all eye to observe the . . .

thoughts,
hearts,
words,
ways, and
walkings of men.

As the eyes of a well-drawn picture are fastened on us, whichever way we turn--so are the eyes of the Lord.

"For a man's ways are in full view of the Lord, and He examines all his paths." Proverbs 5:21
