

Whatever Weather Pleases God--pleases Me!

by Thomas Brooks

The sermon emphasizes the importance of trusting in God's sovereignty and submitting to His will, even when it's difficult to discern.

Scripture: Psalm 37:4, Proverbs 3:5-6, Isaiah 55:8-9, Romans 8:28, Philippians 4:11-13

Topics: "Trust in God's Plan", "Sovereignty Of God"

Description

Thomas Brooks emphasizes the importance of accepting God's will in all circumstances, using the analogy of a shepherd who expresses contentment with whatever weather God chooses. The shepherd's perspective reflects a deep trust in God's sovereignty, suggesting that true peace comes from aligning our desires with God's plans. Brooks encourages believers to embrace life's uncertainties with faith, knowing that God's choices are ultimately for our good. This attitude of submission and trust can transform our outlook on life's challenges.

Transcript

I have read of a gentleman, who, meeting with a shepherd in a misty morning, asked him what weather it would be? 'It will be,' said the shepherd, 'that weather which pleases me.' And being courteously requested to express his meaning, replied, 'Sir, it shall be whatever weather pleases God; and whatever weather pleases God--pleases me!'

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/thomas-brooks/whatever-weather-pleases-godpleases-me/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net