

When Adam Fell

by Thomas Brooks

The fall of Adam had far-reaching consequences, including the loss of our holy image, divine sonship, and friendship with God, but through Jesus Christ, we can reign in life.

Scripture: Genesis 1:26

Topics: "Grace and Redemption", "The Fall of Man"

Description

Thomas Brooks preaches about the profound impact of Adam's fall, emphasizing that Adam's initial state was one of perfect knowledge, holiness, and happiness. However, through his disobedience, humanity lost five critical aspects: our holy image, divine sonship, friendship with God, communion with Him, and our happiness. Brooks highlights that sin and death entered the world through Adam, but he also points to the grace offered through Jesus Christ, who provides a way to regain what was lost. The sermon reflects on the astonishing nature of God's grace towards sinners, inviting them into a covenant of mercy despite their fallen state.

Transcript

Adam's first estate was a state of perfect knowledge, wisdom and understanding. It was a perfect state of holiness, righteousness and happiness. There was nothing within him, but what was desirable and delectable; there was nothing without him, but what was amiable and commendable; nor was there anything around him, but what was serviceable and comfortable. Adam, in his innocent estate, was . . . the epitome of wisdom and knowledge, the image of God, the delight of heaven,

the glory of the creation,
the world's great master,
the Lord's great darling.

But when Adam fell--we fell.

When he lost all--we lost all.

There are five things we lost in our fall:

1. Our holy image--and so became vile;
2. Our divine sonship--and so became children of Satan;
3. Our friendship with God--and so became His enemies;
4. Our communion with God--and so became strangers;
5. Our happiness--and so became miserable.

Sin and death came into the world by Adam's fall.

"For if, by the trespass of the one man, death reigned through that one man, how much more will those who receive God's abundant provision of grace and of the gift of righteousness reign in life through the one man, Jesus Christ." Romans 5:17

O sirs! what a wonder is this--that the great God, who was so transcendently dishonored, despised, provoked, incensed, and injured by poor base sinners; should so freely, so readily, so graciously, condescend to vile forlorn sinners--as to own them, as to love them, and as to enter into a covenant of grace and mercy with them! This may well be the wonder of angels, and the astonishment of men!

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/thomas-brooks/when-adam-fell/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net