

What Do You Have To Do With False Teachers

by Tim Conway

This sermon addresses the issue of spending time and energy on individuals like Joel Osteen and others who may not align with one's beliefs. It emphasizes the importance of focusing on one's personal relationship with God rather than getting entangled in debates or criticisms of others' beliefs. The message encourages prioritizing spiritual growth and understanding of one's own faith rather than being consumed by disagreements with others.

Scripture: Philippians 3:13, Colossians 3:2, 1 Corinthians 8:2, Romans 14:4, 2 Timothy 2:23, Matthew 7:3, Galatians 6:4

Topics: "Personal Relationship with God", "Spiritual Growth"

Transcript

What do you have to do with Joel Osteen? I mean, the truth is they're living their life. It's not like, it's not like they're seeking counsel from you. It's not like they're asking you how to interpret a certain passage.

You don't have anything to do with them. He just wrote this. Why take up your time with them? Why do you need to do that? And you know, there are some of these guys on the internet, it's like all they like to do is take their time.

And you know, I mean, some of them may hold to good doctrine. They may be Christians, but they kind of make it their lifetime ministry to expose and debunk. Listen, we know these guys are bad.

I don't believe what Joel Osteen believes. I don't believe what, I don't believe what Copeland believes. And I just don't really need to concern my life with these guys.

Quite honestly, you don't need to sit there and study them.
