

Are You Burnt Out In Your Calling With God

by Vlad Savchuk

This sermon addresses the issue of burnout in ministry, emphasizing the importance of relying on God's anointing, grace, power, and the Holy Spirit. It highlights that ministry was never meant to be carried out in one's own strength, leading to exhaustion and disillusionment. Encouragement is given to seek a fresh fire from God to revitalize one's calling and prevent burnout.

Scripture: Zechariah 4:6, 2 Corinthians 12:9, Acts 1:8, Isaiah 40:31, Galatians 5:25

Topics: "Burnout in Ministry", "Relying on God's Strength"

Transcript

If you burned out, if you were like a leader, like Moses, who tried to do the call of God in your own strength, and you're burned out with ministry, and you say, I will never do it again. The church hurts people. The ministry destroyed my family.

No, no, no, it's not the ministry. It's the problem is the ministry was never supposed to be done without the anointing. It was never supposed to be done without God's grace.

It was never supposed to be done without God's power and without the help of the Holy Spirit. When you do it in your own strength, you will strain your back. I want to invite you to have an experience with the fire of God, because when you have a fresh fire, your call will become more real, but you don't get a fresh fire.
