

Do You Have A Fence Around Your Commitment With God

by Vlad Savchuk

This sermon shares a personal testimony of struggling in ministry for over 12 years, feeling a call from God since a young age, and encountering limitations despite efforts. The speaker recounts a pivotal moment on a flight where the Holy Spirit prompted them to give away all their savings, challenging their comfort and commitment to God.

Scripture: Proverbs 3:5, Philippians 4:13, Luke 14:33, Matthew 19:21, Mark 10:21

Topics: "Faith in Adversity", "Obedience to God's Call"

Transcript

The ministry was struggling for over 12 years as a youth pastor. I knew I had a call of God. I had a prophetic word when I was about 14 years of age.

I had it, I felt like I had an audible voice at the age of 16 on the parking lot of a grocery store of what the church is gonna look like but something was trapped. It's almost like there was a ceiling. It's almost like there was like this limitation.

No matter what I tried there was just simply the same thing until being on the aisle seat of Alaska flight to Sacramento and I was a tither all my life and I heard the Holy Spirit. At first I thought it was the devil because I rebuked it and this was what I heard. Give all of your savings away and I said no I can't go that far.

I'm comfortable. I'm living a fasted life. I'm living a life of giving.

I'm living a life of serving God but I also have a sense around my commitment to God. This is as far as I go.
