

Greatest Revival Still To Come

by Vlad Savchuk

This sermon focuses on the potential of media, like TikTok and YouTube, to spark the greatest revival in the last days. It emphasizes how these platforms can rapidly spread the message of revival globally, reaching places in hours that would have taken years before. The analogy of using tools like TikTok as David used Goliath's sword to defeat Goliath is highlighted, showing how God can use unconventional means to ignite revival among the youth worldwide. The sermon encourages believers to recognize the unique opportunity of this time to witness a powerful move of God amidst increasing darkness.

Scripture: Joel 2:28, Mark 16:15, Acts 2:17, Matthew 5:14, Ephesians 5:14

Topics: "Revival through Media", "Unconventional Tools for God's Glory"

Bringing the greatest revival in the last days. I believe one of the sparks of that revival will be one of the tools that will spark the revival faster than in any generation before, it will be media. Because whereas before revival would take five years to reach China and Australia, today it will take five hours.

When the revival breaks out in the university, in five hours that godless demonic TikTok can still be a tool because David used the Goliath sword to cut off Goliath's head. And I believe God will even use the tools like TikTok to begin to viral revival faster so that kids can get kindled, kids get sparked around the world. I believe we are set up for such a time as this to see the greatest move of God, where we will see the darkness getting darker and the light of God will rise and shine upon the church.
