

God Has Revealed His Truth To Infants

by Zac Poonen

This sermon emphasizes the importance of revelation over mere knowledge in CFC churches, explaining why Bible school individuals are not chosen as elders. It delves into Matthew 11:25, highlighting how God reveals truths to those with childlike faith and humility, rather than relying solely on human wisdom and intelligence.

Scripture: Matthew 11:25, 1 Corinthians 1:27, James 1:5, Proverbs 3:5

Topics: "Revelation vs. Knowledge", "Childlike Faith and Humility"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the importance of revelation over mere knowledge in CFC churches, explaining why Bible school individuals are not chosen as elders. It delves into Matthew 11:25, highlighting how God reveals truths to those with childlike faith and humility, rather than relying solely on human wisdom and intelligence.

Transcript

Most important thing in CFC churches is revelation, not knowledge. That's why we don't select Bible school people to be our elders. See Matthew 11 verse 25.

It says in the last part of that verse, Lord, Father, you have hidden the things from the wise and intelligent and given revelation to little infants. What did he give the little babies? He doesn't even say children, he says babies.
