

I Will Restore To You The Years That Have Been Wasted

by Zac Poonen

This sermon emphasizes God's promise to restore the years that have been lost or wasted in our lives, using the analogy of locusts devouring crops to represent the destruction in our lives. It encourages believers to claim this promise and trust in God's ability to redeem and make up for all that has been taken away. The message highlights the importance of seeking restoration from God for past failures and mistakes, reminding us of His faithfulness to renew and bring new life to areas that have been barren.

Scripture: Joel 2:25, Isaiah 43:19, Psalm 51:10, Jeremiah 29:11, 2 Corinthians 5:17

Description

This sermon emphasizes God's promise to restore the years that have been lost or wasted in our lives, using the analogy of locusts devouring crops to represent the destruction in our lives. It encourages believers to claim this promise and trust in God's ability to redeem and make up for all that has been taken away. The message highlights the importance of seeking restoration from God for past failures and mistakes, reminding us of His faithfulness to renew and bring new life to areas that have been barren.

Transcript

I will restore to you or make up to you for all the years, uses different locusts, that these locusts have eaten away from your life. The great army which I send among you, I will restore to you the years that were eaten away. I remember in times when I've slipped up and failed, these words are of tremendous encouragement to me, Lord, what shall I do about years that were wasted? I will restore to you the years that you wasted in your life that have been eaten up.

We never get a promise from God if we don't claim it.

Video: <https://sermonindex2.b-cdn.net/-agCig5ZRmY.mp4>

Source: <https://sermonindex.net/speakers/zac-poonen/i-will-restore-to-you-the-years-that-have-been-wasted/>

Grow in Your Walk with Christ

Listen and read messages that will stir your heart for Christ and point you to deeper repentance and devotion.

- 50,000+ Sermons from speakers past and present
- 3,900+ Classic Christian Books freely readable online
- 1,200+ Bible Translations and Commentaries
- Over 450k forum posts — Join our vibrant online Christian forum

www.sermonindex.net