

Speaking Only What The Spirit Of God Gives You

by Zac Poonen

This sermon emphasizes the importance of preaching God's word with the authority and reverence it deserves, as if God Himself is speaking through the preacher. It highlights the need to rely on God's strength rather than human wisdom when serving others, ensuring that all glory goes to God through Jesus Christ.

Scripture: 1 Peter 4:11, 2 Corinthians 3:5, 1 Corinthians 10:31, Colossians 3:17

Topics: "Authority of God's Word", "Reliance on God's Strength"

Description

This sermon emphasizes the importance of preaching God's word with the authority and reverence it deserves, as if God Himself is speaking through the preacher. It highlights the need to rely on God's strength rather than human wisdom when serving others, ensuring that all glory goes to God through Jesus Christ.

Transcript

Whoever speaks, whoever preaches God's word, all of you preach God's word, whoever preaches, speak as one who is speaking the very utterance of God. It's like the Old Testament prophets, as if God himself is speaking through your mouth. I read that and I put my face in the ground.

Lord, how in the world can you do that? And if you serve, serve by the strength God supplies, not with your human cleverness. And so that people will not think about you at the end of it. They will glorify God through Jesus Christ.
